Pentagon Gobbledegook Enriched By New Confusion

By JULES WITCOVER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon lexicon — that peculiar compendium of phrases that reduces the unfathomables of nuclear warfare to mere confusion — has been enriched again.

This time the donor is Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert, who has added some brand new pentagonese to the vocabulary in the course of itemizing a 10-point checklist of vital elements in the building and use of military power in the nuclear age.

Zuckert's list, in a California speech, includes eight items of Pentagon gobbledegook that have come to be household words — in some households, anyway: Arms control, crisis management, deterrence, flexibility, controlled response, multiple options, survivability and damage limitation.

Most armchair Strangeloves who are at all familiar with the ins and outs of nuclear war gaming as played in the Defense Department and on the cocktail circuit will recognize all of these. They discuss what can be done to avoid a nuclear exchange and how to limit one if it occurs. A few, like arms control and deterrence, have been part of the dialogue of destruction since the Eisenhower administration.

But Zuckert has added two more phrases.

The first of these is "threshold of negotiation." Zuckert explains it this way:

"It reflects determination to stop war at the lowest point of intensity on favorable terms. It is necessarily based on a clear understanding of what those terms should be.

"It reflects also the acknowledgement that destruction of any enemy is not an objective, and recognition of the fact that unrestrained warfare is necessarily unfavorable to both sides —militarily, politically and socially."

(In earlier days, there used to be a more involved way of discussing the "threshold of negotiation" — quit while you're ahead.)

The second Zuckert addendum is "termination capability."

"It implies forces still able to fight after being hurt, or as the military planners say, forces recyclable in a degraded environment.

"It demands the ability to counter escalation with increased power at each higher level of intensity. It calls for full control of forces at all times, and the intelligence capability to assure timing initiative. It also includes provision for the post-hostility responsibilities." (Or, save a little for later).

It is possible, of course, that the first eight items in the Zuckert checklist still are unfamiliar to some who have not read "Fail-Safe," who have not heard of "Overkill" or who have not seen "Dr. Strangelove, or Why I Stopped Worrying and Learned to Love the Bomb."

For these, here is a quick rundown of Zuckert's explanations (with editor's helpful footnotes):

1. Arms Control — "Military men are concerned with it not because it might make them technologically unemployed but because it is a necessary part of the defense package." (Translation: The State Depart-

Court Denies Stassen, Yorty Ballot Entries

Action Supports Jordan's Decision Names Are Lacking

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The State Supreme Court today denied Harold E. Stassen a place on the June 2 primary ballot for the Republican nomination for president.

The court also denied a place for a Democratic presidential delegation slate pledged to Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles.

Secretary of State Frank Jordan had refused both petitions on grounds that they lacked the required number of registered voters signatures.

MANY DISQUALIFIED

Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, had sought to get on the Republican presidential primary ballot against Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Stassen was short 4,495 qualified signatures. He had obtained slightly more than 9,000 of a required 13,250. More than 9,000 signatures were disqualified.

Yorty was short only 171 in his bid to put on a delegation pledged to President Johnson but opposed to a similar delegation sponsored by Gov. Brown.

LAST-MINUTE TRY

Phil Silver, Los Angeles attorney for Yorty, made a last minute attempt to sway the court by introducing photostatic copies of signatures stricken for technical errors such as absence of date and illegible addresses.

Both Silver and Stassen's attorneys contended they were blocked from as many as 500,000 qualified registered voters in Los Angeles alone.

They said those names still were in the hands of field deputies and could not be checked against their petitions before the April 3 deadline.

Tomorrow is the deadline for certification of the names of all candidates.

Civic Center Power Out —Business Slows Down

Many Homes In Area Are Also Blacked Out

A power failure in an underground cable brought most of the operation of the Marin County government to a screaching halt today.

The 452 county employees at the Civic Center arrived for work to look helplessly at electric typewriters, electric dictating machines, electric copying machines, electric adding machines, electric accounting machines, a large electric computer, and electric coffee makers.

None of them worked.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. cable crews, having worked through the night to splice new cables to replace three damaged ones under the Civic Center building, predicted no service until late afternoon.

The break in the cable occurred at 8:45 p.m., and the power surged back through the lines knocked out power temporarily in Santa Venetia and San Rafael.

In all, about 1,750 customers had no power after the break, according to Leonard O. Robertson, electrical supervisor for Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

Power was off to 750 homes in Marin Bay, Loch Lomond and Peacock Gap from 8:50 to 9:10 p.m., Robertson said. In Rafael Highlands, Sun Valley, Grand Avenue area and a section of Lincoln Avenue, 500 homes were without power from 8:50 to 9:52.

Power was off in the Santa Venetia area until 10:12 p.m. Power was restored by switching and re-routing, Robertson said.

Apparently there was some defect that caused moisture to get into the cable at the Civic Center, Robertson said. The

Refusal To Sign Oath Snags Pay

A Mill Valley woman refused today to sign the state loyalty oath in order to collect $13.58 due her for part-time work at the Sausalito City library during Easter week.

Mrs. Manche Harvey of 10 Heuters Lane said: "I don't think citizens ought to have to swear to their loyalty. I don't think you should have to put it down on paper. This is an invasion of personal rights.

"I think it's unconstitutional to have a person say whether he has been or has not been anything—Communist, Democrat or anything."

Mrs. Harvey said she worked a few hours a day for about one week for the Sausalito Library Easter week vacation.

She was informed a few days ago by Mrs. Cynthia B. Willcox, Sausalito librarian, that her check was ready but that she must first sign the oath. When she told Mrs. Willcox she did not wish to sign, she was told this is state law.

State law requires that all employees of political subdivisions of the state must sign the oath, which includes a disclaimer of membership in any organization seeking to overthrow the government.

Wilma Young, deputy city clerk, said, "We have never had anybody refuse to sign before."

Rockefeller Calls For More Education Aid

COMBINED UPI & AP

CORVALLES, Ore.—Encouraged by a legislative success in his home state, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York took to the campaign trail in Oregon again today and called for a three-point program of federal aid to education.

In remarks prepared for delivery of Oregon State University, Rockefeller said "increased efforts on the part of the federal government, the states, communities and private philanthropy" were needed to meet the higher education challenge.

Rockefeller flew here from New York where a special session of the legislature late yesterday approved revisions of the state's liquor laws.

Rockefeller was critical of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, also a candidate in the May 15 Oregon Republican presidential primary. He said "Goldwater has stated on the floor of the Senate that he was opposed to any form of federal aid for education."

The New York governor said the federal government should:

1. Expand the student loan and graduate fellowships programs of the National Defense Education Act.

2. Establish a new limited federal scholarship program based on ability and need.

3. Extend the highest education facilities act of 1963 to make liberal art construction faccilities eligible for aid.

Speaking at Stockton, Calif., Goldwater charged the Johnson administration has "recklessly underestimated" the Communists and allowed the U. S. missile lead to falter.

The Arizona Republican swung away from a prepared speech at a rally last night and stirred up his dispute with Defense Secretary Robert McNamara.

He differed sharply with Mc-

3 Officers Found Shot In Georgia

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga. (UPI) —Three policemen who apparently ran afoul of car thieves were found shot to death today, their hands handcuffed behind them, in a rural area about 20 miles northeast of Atlanta.

A spokesman said the bodies were found in a wooded area about 50 feet from their patrol car which had been parked just off a lonely dirt road about a mile from the nearest highway.

He said the burned wreckage of a sports coupe, "still too hot to touch," was found about a quarter mile along the road.

"The officers received a radio call at about 11 p.m. last night and the three went out together in the one car," the spokesman said.

The bodies were found at mid-morning after an unidentified caller reported "something funny is going on down there."

The three officers, all patrolmen for the Gwinnett County Police Department, were identified as Jessie M. Gravitt, 52; Jerry A. Everett, 28, and Ralph K. Davis, 49.

They were found in their car in an almost uninhabited area of pine trees and grazing land.

FRIENDLY PROTEST

Artists Take Poetic License In Picketing

Story and photo
By PHIL FRADKIN

A group of Sausalito artists made the scene last night in San Francisco.

The scene, to be exact, was in front of the San Francisco Museum of Art, where the preview opening of the 83rd annual exhibition of the San Francisco Art Institute was being held.

About 35 pickets paraded back and forth in front of the main entrance with such signs as, "Finck Big," "Stop Art Fixing and Finking," and "They are All Made Out of Ticky-Tacky and They All Look the Same."

The artists' signs, some multi-colored, were directed at the method of selection of artists to exhibit at the show, where $4,800 in prize money was handed out.

The pickets claimed the selection procedure used this year eliminates the chance of outside artists' works being selected. The "in-group," they contend, is made up of 20 artists who won awards last year and were invited to compete again in this year's show.

The protest, headed by Sausalito artists Jean Varda and Serge Trubach, was carried out in a friendly manner with some of the artists slipping into the show to get a look at the winners and friends of the artists slipping out of the show to greet the pickets.

Varda termed the protest successful. He said: "I am an old veteran. Women recognized me outside and came to kiss me, asking what it was all about. I told them it was the Mafia exhibiting inside."

The Sausalito artist termed the first room of the exhibit "sinister" and the second room "a little better; there was some color."

Outside spectators gathered around the pickets and one woman was heard to remark, "Let's go in there. It looks like it must be something good."

There was an unusual twist to the picketing, something San Francisco is becoming used to.

One of the organizers of the demonstration called police to request that a patrol car be on hand to protect the pickets.

A patrol car with two policemen stood by to watch the orderly picketing, which broke up after two hours.

Among the winners at the show was John Ihle of Mill Valley, whose color etching "Me Tarzan, You Jane" won a merchandise order of $100 and a cash prize of $500.

The show will be on exhibit at the museum through May 17. The museum is closed on Mondays.

Drivers Warned On Lucas Valley Turnoff

California Highway Patrolmen next Monday will begin issuing citations to motorists driving on the northbound shoulder of Highway 101 before turning off into Lucas Valley, Capt. Theodore F. Parnow, head of the Marin office of CHP, warned today.

"During the evening commuter rush officers have noticed motorists hazardously and illegally driving at 35 miles an hour on the dirt shoulder of the road one-half mile south of the turnoff," said Parnow.

Railroad Negotiations 'Getting Somewhere'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A source close to the emergency White House railroad negotiations said today "I think we're getting somewhere" in efforts to settle a dispute that threatens a nationwide strike next week.

The statement followed President Lyndon B. Johnson's comment yesterday that he is hopeful of a voluntary agreement in the long work rules dispute by the end of this week.

Roy Cohn Predicts A Hung Jury

NEW YORK (UPI) — A federal court jury deliberated a second day on the fate of Roy Cohn, and the onetime wonder boy of the Army-McCarthy hearings predicted it would be a hung jury.

The controversial defendant, who was tried on charges of perjury and obstruction of justice, said it seemed "unlikely" that the jury would be able to agree on a verdict.

Johnson Deplores Rights Violence, Says U.S. Strong

Holds Biggest News Conference; Sees Hard Election Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson, deploring violence and disorder in the civil rights struggle, says all groups should exercise moderation and try to understand the other fellow's viewpoint.

Johnson was asked to comment yesterday, at his biggest news conference, on civil rights demonstrations that run against the law or threaten violence.

He replied:

"We do not, of course, condone violence or taking the law into your own hands, or threatening the health or safety of our people. You really do the civil rights cause no good when you go to this extent."

The president also expounded on national defense controversies, the rail negotiations, the booming economy and politics.

At one point, he virtually announced his candidacy for a four-year White House term, saying he was enjoying his work and "prepared to continue."

The conference, broadcast live by television and radio networks, marked Johnson's first appearance in the big State Department auditorium where President John F. Kennedy held all his sessions with newsmen.

Wearing television blue, Johnson faced the biggest news conference crowd on record—512 reporters and conventioneering members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. The previous high was 437 for a 1961 Kennedy conference.

Asked to give his attitude on civil disobedience as a tactic in the civil rights struggle, Johnson said, "We do not think the violation of one right or the denial of one right, should permit the violation of another right."

In the political sphere, Johnson said he expects the presidential campaign to be "a hard fight, a difficult one." And he drew laughter by adding, "I would hope that it wouldn't be too close."

Reminded that a poll of editors indicated broad expectation of a Johnson victory at the polls, the president commented, "I hope that they feel in November as they do in April."

And when asked if he were concerned about the possibility that independent electors committed to neither major party might be elected in Southern states, Johnson said:

"I would always be concerned about any elector that was not committed to vote for me."

Questioned about conflicting high-level statements comparing American and Soviet missile and air strength, Johnson said, "I am pleased with our strength."

He said the Kennedy and Johnson administrations have spent 25 billion dollars more for defense in the past three years than would have been spent had the rate of the final year of the Eisenhower administration continued. He said this money has bought "extra combat divisions, extra nuclear warheads, extra missile strength."

Johnson said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara "operates a tight budget" but an adequate one.

"You can depend on what he tells you," the president said.

Johnson also said he would personally make a decision "that I think is in the national interest" on whether to adopt proposals by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, for development of a new bomber.

Other major pronouncements included these:

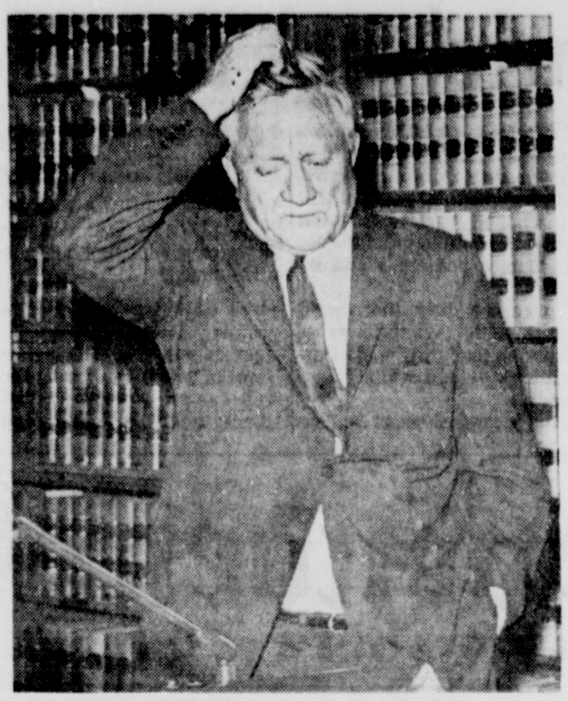

The national economy operated at a record annual rate of 608.5 billion dollars in the January-March quarter, an increase of 8.5 billion dollars from the final quarter of 1963.

Johnson said he was "not an overly optimistic man" but believes the dispute that threatens a nationwide rail strike can be settled through collective bargaining.

The administration wants to study the feasibility of a sea-level replacement for the Panama Canal and is sending a survey team to Colombia to explore the terrain there.

At least two secondary school students from each state will be selected next month as presidential scholars.

Johnson said he has no interest in any government-regulated industry, and that Mrs. Johnson's television interests are in the hands of trustees. "I see no conflict in any way," he said.

Rusk Pledges U.S. To Vietnam War

SAIGON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today pledged that the "deep commitment" of U.S. aid would continue for South Vietnam's war against the Communist guerrillas.

Rusk, first U.S. secretary of state to visit South Vietnam, will spend two and one-half days here in talks with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. military leaders, and Vietnamese government officials.

Stanwyck-Taylor Movie Planned

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Because they both liked the script, Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor—once man and wife—plan to star together in a movie.

Taylor and Miss Stanwyck were divorced in 1951.

Producer-director William Castle said yesterday that he was hesitant about asking Miss Stanwyck and Taylor to appear in a suspense film, "The Night Walker."

Taylor's comment: "Any actor who would turn down a chance to play opposite Barbara Stanwyck, under any circumstances, would have to be out of his head."

The actor said he and his former wife remained friends after the divorce, adding: "There's no reason why we shouldn't."

But there was still no indication that the Senate will agree to the 105-million-dollar measure.

The issue became more complicated yesterday when Sen. George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez), said his Senate finance committee may end up by writing its own educational money bill.

IN BIRTHDAY MOOD AT 70

Nikita Rules Out Break With China

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev, warmed by an outpouring of tributes and honors on his 70th birthday, said today the Soviet Union will not "break off relations" with Communist China.

Surrounded by old comrades and his closest east European allies at a Kremlin ceremony honoring him, Khrushchev said the "disruptive activities" of his Chinese rivals "will suffer a failure because they have no foundation in life."

Without directly naming the Chinese, he said "what we shall do is not to plume ourselves on our successes but to fight and go ahead, not to break off relations with those with whom we have no full unity now, but always leave an opportunity for a rapprochment and understanding."

But Khrushchev warned, "this must not be achieved through concessions of principle but through a correct explanation and interpretation of the Marxist-Leninist teaching." The Soviets, he said "have always adhered and will continue to adhere to Marxist-Leninist positions."

His remarks at the ceremony, belatedly reported by the Soviet news agency Tass, were surprisingly conciliatory compared with his violent attack two days ago on Mao Tse-tung and his fellow Chinese leaders.

Khrushchev today said "bombastic word disregarding the vital interests of the working people and not supported by creative work have no sense." He clearly meant China but again did not say so directly.

Only yesterday communist Chinese leaders had sent the Soviet premier conciliatory greetings on the eve of his birthday.

The Red Chinese message, signed by party chairman Mao Tze-tung and other officials, said "the people of the two great fraternal countries of China and the Soviet Union have common interests and common objectives in their struggle."

Its tone was in marked contrast to the bombastic personal attacks on Khrushchev that have come from communist China in the running ideological feud between the two giants of the communist movement. It followed Khrushchev's charge that the Chinese had brought Russian and Red China to the brink of a split.

Cyprus Fighting Is Continuing

NICOSIA (AP) — Greek and Turkish Cypriot bands today rounded out a week of intermittent skirmishing on mountain ridges overlooking the Turkish-held Kyrenia Pass, 10 miles north of Nicosia.

In one incident the sound of machine gun fire and the crack of rifles reverberated off rocky cliff faces and deep defiles for about two hours.

Greek Cypriot sources declared their forces wiped out two Turkish patrols advancing toward Greek-held positions, killing two men and wounding five. There was no Turkish confirmation.

Gland Surgery For DeGaulle Is Reported

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle was reported to have undergone a prostate gland operation today.

The report was carried by the French News Agency and the government-owned radio and television networks, although there was no official confirmation from de Gaulle's office.

De Gaulle was reported to have entered a hospital in Paris last night, only an hour after the broadcast of his pre-recorded radio and television speech to the nation. In the broadcast he said France must build its own nuclear force and not depend upon "uncertain" protection from the United States.

De Gaulles is 73, and prostatic trouble is common in men of his age. Former British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, 70, underwent such an operation last fall.

Constitutionally, in the event of de Gaulle's death, his successor would be Gaston Monnerville, a 67-year-old Negro from French Guiana, who is president of the French Senate. There is no vice president provided for under French law at present.

Monnerville has little stature or following, and long has been on the outs with de Gaulle—who virtually has boycotted him. If Monnerville took over, political observers consider his tenure would be short.

Office Building Permit Granted

Mill Valley planning commissioners Wednesday approved a variance for Robert Greene to permit him to build an office building at 20 Sunnyside Avenue, but refused two-level parking which residents and the commission said would tie up traffic too much.

Robert Cornish, former city planning consultant, who owns property on Laurelwood Avenue, spoke for those opposing two-level parking. He said 50 persons had signed a petition opposing Greene's parking plan.

Much of the agenda was continued to April 28 due to lateness of the meeting, which closed at 1 a.m.

Famed Screenwriter Roy Chanslor Dies

ENCINO (AP) — Roy Chanslor, 64, one of Hollywood's best known screenwriters, died of a heart attack today.

His credits included: "Johnny Guitar," "Front Page Woman," "Hazzard" and "Hi, Nellie."

LONG JOB AHEAD — Clark Bird, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. cable splicer, works at break in power cables supplying Marin County Civic Center, which burned through last night and left civic center without power today to operate gadgets ranging from George. the IBM 1401 computer, down to electric coffee makers and typewriters.

cable was installed in 1961 by a private electrical contractor, he said.

The power failure caught a maintenance man in an elevator and a meeting in progress in the Board of Education boardroom.

John D. Barr, 24, of Hamilton Air Force Base, an employee of American Building Maintenance Co., which contracts to clean the Civic Center, was stuck about an hour in the elevator.

According to Leslie Wider, in charge of the building department, Barr was reached by the telephone in the elevator and told to sit tight at first.

B. P. Anderson of 226 Magnolia Avenue was trapped in an elevator at his home for a half-hour until he was rescued by Capt. Paul Sasse and Firemen Gene Gay of Station 2 of the San Rafael Fire Department.

The firemen took the door off the elevator which was stuck at the main floor.

When it became clear the power failure was longterm, the Civic Center elevator was switched to manual controls and brought to the nearest floor to free the man.

The emergency generator came on immediately, turning on a few lights in hallways and stairs and keeping the switchboard operating on a restricted service. But it does not provide power for all of the building's myriad electrical gadgets.

The cable which failed was one of three, each 160 feet long, in a conduit from a connection just outside the building to the main connections within the building. The cable burned through its lead sheath and damaged the other two.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said the cable belonged to the county, not PG&E. He said any warranty there may have been on the cable has run out.

He added it would be impossible to tell now, because of the burn, what caused the failure. A kink or scrape during installation might have weakened the insulation, or the cable might have been defective when new, he said.

Manual equipment was collected and put into use where possible. Some county departments rented manual typewriters and adding machines from office supply stores to keep some operations going.

In other offices, clerical workers were told to do jobs which did not require machinery, such as filing. Others started sending employees home by late morning.

Arleigh Sewell, in charge of the data processing division, said computer work would be done through the night to make up for lost time when power is restored. He added that part of today was planned for preparations for use of the IBM 1401 computer to count election returns June 2.

Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott estimated the loss in work would probably cost the county more than $4,000 for the day.

Columbia River Water Asked For California

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An Idaho senator recommended today that the mighty Columbia River be tapped to provide water for California, Nevada and even Arizona.

Republican Sen. Len Jordan made the recommendation during a senate reclamation subcommittee hearing on a 3.1-billion-dollar regional plan to meet the water needs of the arid Pacific Southwest.

Asked whether such a plan was under consideration, Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall said it was not.

The proposal to pump water from the Columbia at the Dalles dam in Oregon to transport it south drew immediate praise from subcommittee chairman Frank E. Moss (D-Utah), Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) and Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.)

Moss said he would urge that studies of the proposal be made.

Jordan said it was clear from the hearings on Udall's Pacific Southwest water plan and on legislation by Sen. Carl Hayden (D-Ariz.) to authorize the 1.1-billion-dollar Central Arizona Project that "there isn't enough water in the Colorado basin to go around."

The best source, he said, was the Columbia River, which carries about 10 times as much water as the Colorado River over which Arizona and California have fought for decades.

Jordan again rejected proposals made in California that the Snake River be tapped in Idaho to bring water to the Southwest.

Marin May Fete Is Due Discussion

San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce leaders will meet at 5:30 p.m. Monday to discuss plans to participate in the county-wide "May in Marin" festival, Richard A. Kientz, chamber president, announced today.

Among other things the chamber "May in Marin" committee hopes to pick a princess to be entered in the festival from San Anselmo, said Kientz, co-chairman of the committee with Robert E. Nolan. The meeting will be in Nolan's construction office at 500 Redhill Avenue.

The "Yellow Days Sale" last week in San Anselmo was one of the largest in history, reported chairman Richard Silvey of the merchants committee.

The meeting at 12:15 p.m. next Thursday will be in Alexander Hall at San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Noncoms To Hear General Speak

Lt. Gen. Robert H. Terrill, vice commander of the Air Defense Command, will address the graduation class of the Noncommissioned Officers Academy at 7 p.m. today in the Noncommissioned Officers Open Mess at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Seventy-eight students are scheduled to receive diplomas.

General Terrill, a graduate of the United States Military Academy in operations for the Strategic Air Command at Offutt Air Force Base, Neb., before being made vice commander of the Air Defense Command.

Sheriff's Aide Placed On 15-Day Probation

Edmund Mauberret, technician with the Marin County sheriff office's identification bureau, has been placed on 15 days suspension without pay for drinking while on duty, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said today.

Sheriff Mountanos said the offense occurred April 8 and suspension was effective the same day. Mauberret works in the identification bureau under Earl Cummesky.

Furlough Prisoner Reports Stolen Truck

A Marin County jail prisoner, released on work furlough early today re-entered the sheriff's office only minutes later to report his pickup truck stolen from the courthouse parking lot.

Raymond Ernest Arata, 34, of 200 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, said the white 1964 truck was taken between midnight and 6 p.m. He is serving 90 days for worthless check passing.

$250 Is Accepted In Drinking Case

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control announced it has accepted payment of $250 from Raymond and Eugenia Coscarat, 405 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, in lieu of a suspension of their on-sale beer and wine license.

The licensees had been charged on June 14, 1963, with sale to a minor, permitting a minor to consume, and sale to an obviously intoxicated person.

PENTAGON

ment insists on it.)

2. Crisis Management—"The ability to keep even an intense and long-lasting international crisis from exploding into war, or a low intensity conflict from escalating into higher dimensions of war." (Keeping your shirt on.)

3. Deterrence — "It must be a deterrence which is effective at any echelon of conflict, not merely at the all-out nuclear level. This is what was wrong with the massive retaliation theory." (Why kill the patient to cure the cold?)

4. Flexibility — "It has a specific meaning in terms of organization, equipment and capability for rapid deployment of forces to cover the full range of crisis situations or war requirements. We need to be able to fit the force to the job." (You don't swat a fly with a baseball bat.)

5. Controlled Response—"We must be able to respond at a predetermined level of intensity and quantity of force in order to retain initiative and press for settlement of issues on freedom-serving and peace-building terms." (Same as flexibility.)

6. Multiple Options — "Must be built into the forces in the form of alternate target plans, ability to retarget, multiple delivery systems, selectivity of both strike characteristics and targets, and versatility of employment in both strategic and tactical missions." (Don't put all your eggs in one basket.)

7. Survivability — "Covers pre-launch protection against nuclear attack, the ability to penetrate defenses, and immunity to sabotage, clandestine operations and capture." (If you lose the ball, the game's over.)

8. Damage Limitation—"Calls for the ability to limit the collateral damage generated by either side. It involves accuracy of targeting and defensive systems which can respond promptly and neutralize weapons at safe distances . . . is obtained in part by striking at enemy military forces, not at centers of population." (Don't get the enemy mad.)

The Pentagon lexicon is almost as potent in its own ability to destroy comprehensibility as is any modern weapon. And its contributors have great "termination capability." The gobbledegook never ends.

2 Tennis Courts To Be Ready

Two standard tennis courts at Sausalito's Richardson Bay School will be ready for play within one week, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown told the Sausalito Recreation Commission last night. The courts, formerly substandard in size, have been enlarged.

The commission, following report from chairman Willard A. Hall, recommended that a redwood, rustic fence be installed as soon as possible to fend off wind at the tennis courts, provided money for the fence can be included in the 1964-65 budget.

The commission authorized purchase of swings and slides for Harrison Avenue Park.

Mrs. Joan O'Connor of San Francisco has been hired as director of arts and crafts for the summer recreation activities commencing June 29 at Central School. A male director is expected to be hired for the sports program by May 1. A total of $1,000 was recommended for the summer program in the 1964-65 budget, reported commissioner James E. Muldoon.

The North Marin Council on Youth today formally adopted a proposal for a Marin County Council on Youth to be submitted to the board of supervisors in May.

CAMPAIGN

Namara's assertion—backed by President Lyndon B. Johnson—that this country is increasing its arms superiority over the Soviet Union.

Returning to Washington after a shortened two-day speaking stint, Goldwater left behind a demand that Rockefeller supporters quit raising the extremist issue in the California campaign.

He urged the New York governor to call off a so-called task force of seven Republican state legislators, all members of the Rockefeller delegation, who charged that right-wing Goldwater supporters are out to take over the Republican party.

State Sen. John F. McCarty of San Rafael and Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael are part of the GOP task force.

In a swing down the San Francisco Peninsula yesterday, Goldwater referred to the group as a "truth squad," and said bluntly: "If they will step up and say I am a liar to my face, they'll get the reaction of a westerner to that kind of treatment."

McCarthy declared that Goldwater's acceptance of the right-wing backing has emboldened extremists to "the point where they brazenly propose to dismember the party."

Bombing Case Nets 7 Years

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—William Sterling Rosecrans Jr. was sentenced to seven years in prison today for dynamiting the home of a 6-year-old Negro boy who integrated a white elementary school.

Rosecrans had pleaded guilty to the Feb. 16 dynamiting. The sentence was handed down by Federal Judge Byran Simpson.

Simpson said in not imposing the maximum sentence of 11 years, he took into consideration the fact that Rosecrans cooperated with authorities and had been used by others in the bombing.

Five Ku Klux Klansmen accused on conspiring with Rosecrans have pleaded innocent.

Right To Sell Beer Is Upheld

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A San Diego man arrested 25 times for traffic violations can still sell beer, the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Appeals Board ruled today.

It upheld the appeal of Jack A. Van Natta, whose application for a beer license was denied on grounds he had a disqualifying police record.

The board held there is no connection between Van Natta's arrest record and the right to dispense beer. Most of the violations were minor ones.

Median Barrier Passes Test In Highway Crash

The median barrier under construction on Highway 101 between Marin City and the Greenbrae exit underwent its first test last night.

Francis A. Thatcher, 35, of 777 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, was treated at Marin General hospital last night for a cut lower lip and cuts and bruises on his left leg.

Thatcher was driving north on the Richardson Bay Bridge at 9:45 p.m. when his car hit the partially completed barrier. It prevented the car from going into the southbound lane, according to the California Highway Patrol.

His car was then hit by two northbound cars driven by John Francis Maillard, 29, of 41 Terrace Court, Belvedere Gardens, and John Rockwell Dettner, 24, of 11 Rock Road, Kentfield.

That section of Highway 101 on which the barrier is being constructed has been the scene of numerous fatal accidents.

Police said young Harper, who was last seen at the school, left of his own accord. He is believed to be out of the county.

Mrs. Barrick said today she has had no word from her son.

The Karmann Ghia goes to show you what happens when you turn a Volkswagen over to an Italian designer.

It comes out with a noble Roman nose, graceful curves, and a low silhouette.

In fact, classical tradition is followed right down the line.

Fenders, hoods and door frames are welded and shaped and smoothed by hand.

Seats and convertible tops are padded and stitched and fitted by hand.

Now you might think it's sort of crazy to go to all this trouble, just to turn out some fancy Italian sculpturing.

Especially since this body of work ends up on top of one of those plain VW chassis.

But consider.

The chassis includes VW's 4-speed synchromesh transmission, big 15-inch wheels, torsion bars, and an easy-to-service non-temperamental engine.

So that with the Ghia's form, and this functional interior, you've got yourself a pretty solid piece of architecture.

It's known as renaissance Volkswagen.

10th Rhubarb Review Certainly Not Last

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Tamalpais Valley residents, a hardy and musical breed, prove this again in their current 10th Rhubarb Revue, a 30-act show which bounces along agreeably in the old improvement clubhouse on Maple Street.

Though the hall is to fall for a flood control project when the show ends, the players' spirit indicates there will always be a Rhubarb. The show goes on again tonight and tomorrow and next weekend. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Players who got the most thundering applause were Paul and Dick Dunn and Ray Truman, folk singers, who practically jump out of their clothes singing. They are excellent.

Shirley Taldo and Dick Dawe, veterans, turn the tiny stage into Broadway. They are tops.

In Act I, Bob Davis and Dick Miller, as romantics, provide a lot of laughs; Karl Zipf does "Don't Worry About Me" ably, and Sandy Bartlett is all show girl.

There are several take-offs on demolition gangs coming to blow up the hall for the Army engineers and in one act, "Flooding the Market," Alan Burdick as God, says, "It's going to rain here. I'm going to flood the world," and Noah (Joe Allen) decides to build an ark with a do-it-yourself kit.

Cathy Radke, a brief bundle, is excellent in "Cuddles," wearing a black spider ring and singing to a skeleton, "Take Me in Your Arms." Jack Adams, who says he is from Akron, O-hee-ho, and Dawe, reading from Shakespeare, are very well received.

Bob Glessner runs an IBM machine which is singular; Jean Cantin, Miriam Burdick, Pat Owen, Veva Ellis and Marge Davis do a fine take-off on clubby women and statistics.

A good show in Act II is the "Green Thumb," where Russ Rock finds everyone knows more about gardening than he and Esther Allen and Carroll Dawe are excellent, twined in vines, singing Bea Lillie's "There are Fairies at the Bottom of the Garden."

Benita Truman knocks herself out to please the jaded booking agent, Alan Burdick, but Miriam Burdick and Jane Healey get the jobs. Benita is a superb comedienne.

Cathy Radke and Joe Allen's scene in a tent comes off well, and Harrie and Morrie Batz are excellent in a scene as Russians.

It is a fast-moving show, with Glessner acting as entrepreneur during intermission, Fireman Ozzie Oswald infecting people with laughter while buying some panels from an old show, and Fire Chief Bud Owen running the curtains per usual.

Directors are Esther Allen and Benita Truman; managers are Glessner and Zipf; the wonderful, plunky piano is by Cheryl Bock. Refreshments are served and the spiritous Tam Valleyites being so complete even have a No. 1 broomtender, Bob Webber. There will always be a Rhubarb!

Chamber Backs May Festival

The Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce yesterday decided to support the May in Marin festival being promoted by the Marin Visitors Bureau.

From May 3 to 9 there will be sales, promotional events and a parade of town princesses through the streets.

The chamber decided that the winner of the contest to find a slogan for the town will be decided by a special committee Monday. A $50 savings bond will be the top prize.

566 Passengers Use New Marin Heliport Facilities

Asst. county public works director Arthur T. Knutsen announced today that 566 passengers used the new county heliport in its first full month of operation.

Officials of San Francisco-Oakland Helicopter Airlines, Inc., which uses the heliport, had estimated 300 passengers would use the heliport the first month, Knutsen said.

The heliport near the south end of Richardson Bay Bridge was constructed with $4,000 in county funds, with the expectation the county cost would be repaid from fees paid by SFO helicopters based on the number of passengers.

'COOPERATIVE HOUSING' AT SCIENCE MUSEUM

When two stray female cats "adopted" the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum on Albert Park Lane in San Rafael as their new home, museum employees weren't particularly impressed. It seemed like a natural place for cats. But when both cats had kittens, there was a bit of a problem. This was compounded when both moved their litters into the typewriter desk of Mrs. Douglas N. White. There, they take turns as baby sitters and foster mothers for each other's kittens—five in one litter and four in the other. Mrs. White had to remove desk front to watch the kittens.

Mrs. Gatov Switches Support To Cranston

Mrs. Elizabeth Gatov of Kentfield, Northern California campaign chairman for Sen. Clair Engle in 1958, will support Alan Cranston, an Engle foe, this year.

Mrs. Gatov announced yesterday she can no longer support Engle because he is "too ill to fulfill the important duties of his office."

She joined another former Engle supporter, industrialist Dan A. Kimball, as co-chairman of State Controller Cranston's campaign for Engle's seat.

Mrs. Gatov is former treasurer of the United States and a Democratic national committeewoman.

She said Engle's inability to speak when he tried to introduce a resolution on the Senate floor this week "seemed to underscore the fact that his health is inadequate."

Of Mrs. Gatov's appointment as co-chairman, Cranston said: "It unites again the winning team that spearheaded the successful efforts to re-elect Gov. Edmund G. Brown over Richard Nixon in 1962."

POLITICAL BRIEFS

Vera Schultz Is Given Support By Labor Group

Marin County Committee on Political Education (AFL-CIO) has endorsed Mrs. Vera Schultz for state senator.

About 25 members of COPE met at the San Rafael Labor temple Wednesday night and endorsed Mrs. Schultz.

Both Republican and Democratic candidates were invited to the COPE meeting, but Mrs. Schultz was the only one to accept.

She outlined her experience with the League of Women Voters when she served as its representative in Sacramento, as well as her experience as supervisor.

McCABE RALLY

About 45 Democrats, most of them friends of the late Clem Miller, met in Corte Madera last night to greet congressional aspirant George McCabe of Santa Rosa.

The coffee gathering was held at the William Ford home, the former home of Rep. Miller.

Twin City Fireworks Chairman Selected

Colleen Swanson of Corte Madera last night was selected chairman of the July 4 fireworks display committee of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission.

The commission's new director, Robert Bundy of San Francisco, was on hand at the meeting to meet residents. The spring recreation program will get under way next week, Chairman Albert E. Kogler said.

Youth Fights Suspension

A San Rafael youth, suspended for a quarter from Stanford University for smashing a door in one of the buildings at the university's Florence, Italy, campus last month, will have his case reviewed by the American Civil Liberties Union.

Frank P. Morse, 19, a sophomore, and another youth were tried soon after the dormatory hi-jinks. Each was sentenced to five hours extra duty. Morse thought that was the end of it, but when he returned to enroll in the spring quarter, he found he was suspended.

He claims there was no written notice and no reason given for the suspension.

He asked a rehearing before the full judicial council. The council recommended that the penalty for both students be increased to 10 hours. However, Dean of Students H. Donald Winbigler refused to reverse his order of suspension.

Judiciary Council Chairman Darrell Halverson then recommended that the case be referred to the ACLU and Judge Ben Duniway of the U.S. Court of Appeals, who is also a university trustee.

Ernest Besig, chief ACLU counsel in San Francisco, said it appears that Morse has been denied some valuable rights. The suspension means that Morse has lost his scholarship, Besig said.

Morse and his two brothers, whose parents are both dead, live with Rev. and Mrs. Richard D. Belmont at 121 Knight Drive. Belmont is vicar of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer in Glenwood.

All-Beethoven Program Set May 2 At Forest Meadows

Josef Krips will present an all-Beethoven program on May 2, in the first appearance in Marin of the full San Francisco Symphony, Mrs. J. Harold Dollar announced today.

Mrs. Dollar is president of the Dominican Convent Alumnae, which is sponsoring the concert, to be presented at 3 p.m. at Forest Meadows on the campus of the Dominican Convent in San Rafael.

Maestro Krips has delayed his departure for a festival tour of Europe and Israel by a few days to make his Marin debut in this final concert of the current symphony season.

Proceeds from this "May in Marin" event will go to the Dominican Convent building fund and will be used for the expansion of facilities.

Sponsor, patron and general admission tickets are available at Sherman Clay and Co., San Francisco, and at the concert box office, Dominican Convent, San Rafael.

Mrs. John D. Relfe is general chairman for the concert.

Kaiser Blasts Right-Wing Idea

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Leland M. Kaiser, candidate for the Republican nomination for U.S. senator, yesterday blasted suggestions that right-wing factions are seeking to take control of the Republican Party.

Kaiser, a San Francisco financier, told a Republican alliance meeting here, "I'm not a captive of anybody."

He said California needs "a good business man in the Senate . . . that's why I'm running for nomination."

Buick has a great transmission.

An automobile transmission, we grant you, isn't the most soul-stirring subject on earth. Nothing to look at either.

But if you'd like for your next new car to give you a better break on performance and gasoline mileage, something happened last week to be your guide.

The Los Angeles to New York Mobil Economy Run proved one thing for sure. There's quite a difference in the transmissions of new cars.

Three out of four for Buick

The long-time champion in the transmission league—Buick—walked off with the 1964 economy pennant. No other single make of car won as many events as Buick. Four entries, three winners.

The winning Special carried the new Super Turbine 300 automatic transmission; the LeSabre was equipped with the Super Turbine 400 (both optional at extra cost). They're the latest in a long line of Buick transmissions well known for their smoothness and absence of "shift feel". The Super Turbine is a refined and improved torque converter type to help you safely pass cars and trucks as well as gas stations.

You'll hear a lot about it in the next couple of years as this modern kind of transmission is adopted by more and more car builders.

What about engines?

Of course, an efficient transmission gets more efficient when teamed up with a lean, agile engine. The winning Buick power plants were our new V-6 and V-8. The 300 cubic inch V-8 in the winning Buick Special (the lowest priced of all Buicks) and the Buick LeSabre (the lowest priced big Buick) is like a well-conditioned fighter. All muscle, no fat. Weighs in at far less than other V-8's of similar punch. It took every other V-8 in the Economy Run.

Your type of driving—regular gas

The Run was through cities and towns, across super highways, in traffic, out of traffic. This was not race track driving or proving ground driving. This was your kind of driving—even though you can't expect to get as good mileage as these expert drivers in their finely tuned production cars. The distance was 3,243 miles, about what most families log in four months. All three Buicks used regular gas.

So the Economy Run is not just a cross country tour for the Mobil people and a few car buffs. It's a reliable test of a car's power team and what it's able to squeeze out of its fuel.

We don't expect everybody to rush out this week-end to buy a new Buick just because we won a few economy trophies.

There are so many other good reasons for leaning to Buick that economy usually gets second billing. There's styling, naturally. An unusually great ride. Extraordinary engineering and workmanship. And very young performance. Small wonder Buick sales are running at 11.5% over last year.

But it's nice to get economy as a plus in a Buick. Beyond the dollars saved on gasoline, there's a certain pride in knowing you have a car that's built to get the most out of every tank of gasoline.

Wouldn't You Really Rather Have a Buick?

San Rafael Sewer Line Contract Let

The San Rafael Sanitation District Board awarded Bepco Inc. of Oakland a $72,903 contract yesterday for installing new sewer lines in Second Street from E Street to the Francisco Boulevard pumping station.

Bepco was lowest of nine bidders for the job of installing 21-inch and 27-inch lines to replace the present 15-inch and 18-inch lines.

Norris M. Rawles, city director of public works, reported the board also hired Philip B. Lygren, San Rafael civil engineer, to survey the boundary lines of the San Rafael district and the Ross Valley Sanitary District.

The survey costs are scheduled not to exceed $1,500, with each district paying half, Rawles said.

Two Marin Youths Enlist In Navy

Richard Louis Lassner, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lassner of 117 Ryan Avenue, Mill Valley, and David Paul Bradley, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Bradley of 40 Madrone Avenue, Ross, enlisted in the Navy this week at the San Rafael recruiting station, 1116 Fourth Street.

Both men have been sent to the Naval Training Center in San Diego for 10 weeks of recruit training. Lassner enlisted in the Navy's electronics program for four years and Bradley is in the seamen's program for three years.

Unexpected Income Source For Thieves

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Burglars found an unexpected source of income when they looted offices in the Warren County courthouse of more than $13,000.

They also broke into 13 slot machines that were seized in raids and stored in the sheriff's office.

Pastor In Marin City Named Man Of Year

Rev. Donald Hoyt Schilling, 31, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Marin City, last night received the annual distinguished service award of the Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Presentation was made at the Outdoor Art Club, Mill Valley, by Jaycee Jerome C. Hauke at the fifth annual award dinner and bosses' night.

Schilling, who lives at 26 Burgess Court, Marin City, is a graduate of San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, and has been pastor of the Marin City church one year. He is a native of Montana and, before moving to Marin City, was director for five years of the Washington Neighborhood Center in Sacramento.

DONALD HOYT SCHILLING
Helped solve youth problems

Huke said the judges considered Schilling's contributions to the community in helping to solve problems between white and Negro students last fall at Tamalpais High School.

Schilling said, "I assume this is an endorsement of the human rights effort in general across the country.

Accepting the plaque, he said, "I take it in the context of knowing and believing it represents the stand you men have on this issue. That means everyone here will vote against the initiative in the election . . . This is an overwhelming thing for me."

Judges were Mill Valley City Councilman George Blackwell; Edward M. Mills, co-publisher of the Mill Valley Record, and Jack Larson, fifth grade teacher at Tamalpais Valley School. The award is made for contributions to general community welfare, evidence of leadership, and personal or business progress during the year.

Richard Sloan was presented a certificate and key for "bringing back the Dipsea Race into hands of Mill Valleyans."

"Survivor medals" were awarded to Sloan, Hauke, James Henthorne and Robert Farnham for running the Dipsea Race last year.

Joseph J. Allen, deputy executive director of the San Francisco Housing Authority, spoke on his trip in 1960 with then Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco to Russia and their meeting with Premiere Nikita Khrushchev.

Robert Glessner of Tamalpais Valley was master of ceremonies, and Edward P. Dezendorf, Jaycee president, spoke briefly.

Collapsing Drier Injures Woman

Mrs. Patricia A. Murray of 160 Tamal Vista Drive, San Rafael, suffered a painful finger injury Wednesday when an umbrella-type clothes drier collapsed and caught the ring finger of her right hand. "I called for help but no one could hear me," she said.

Mrs. Murray dragged the umbrella with all the clothes on the line into her kitchen and called the telephone operator for help. She estimated her hand was caught for about 15 minutes until Police Lt. Jay Fletcher and Officer Roy Conyers arrived to free her about 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Murray said the finger was not broken.

Slayer Will Be Released Aug. 21

Roy H. Teller, serving life in San Quentin Prison for the 1949 murder of a gambler, will be released Aug. 21 after serving 14 years, the Adult Authority announced yesterday.

Teller, 41, escaped the gas chamber by pleading guilty of first degree murder as the man who gunned down Martin D. Breslauer, a Daly City bookie, for his $3,000 bankroll.

A companion in the slaying, John Ruane, also drew a life sentence but is now at the California Medical Facility at Vacaville. He was denied parole in January and cannot apply again until next January.

Demand for veneer-quality black walnut has grown so rapidly that manufacturers are using it at twice the normal rate of 17 million board feet a year.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Things Should Really Be Jumping At Sabella's Restaurant Sunday

Salmon steaks are now on the menu at Sabella's — and delicious they are, broiled in butter.

But this Sunday the main attraction is frog legs — not necessarily on the menu, but live ones.

This is the day Sabella's has its annual frog jumping contest — a sort of preliminary event to the Angels Camp contest in four weeks. The Calaveras County affair is always a drawing card, but if you can't make it the one at Sabella's is a good condensed version.

Customarily it's conducted exclusively for the juniors — but after noting the excitement on the sidelines each year, Sabella's finally weakened and is throwing the event open to jumpers of all ages.

The trick is to get a frog to cover the longest possible distance in three leaps, using your own brand of encouragement. Almost anything goes except touching him. Ten years ago someone cajoled a frog into a three-lap hop of just two inches short of 17 feet. The record still stands.

Things start jumping at 1:30 p.m. Sunday. Bring your own frog if you like,, but first take his measurement. Four inches or more from nose to tail (not including legs) makes him elegible. Otherwise there'll be a gunnysack full of jumpers from Angles Camp.

ONDINE HASN'T gotten around to suggesting it on the menu yet, but I'm sure one of these days you'll find "Chicken Saute Cynthia" listed on the right hand side—a new concoction by chef Alfred Roblin, who if he were put to the test, could probably come up with a new dish every day.

In fact, he tells me that in France this is expected.

Meanwhile, you might ask for the new item—you'll find it excellent. Another dish I like that IS on the menu is the rex sole Bretonne.

Fred Martinez tells me there have been a number of inquiries about "Jose," the sea iguana brought back from the Galapagos by Dr. Jerold Lowenstein. Alfred Roblin, who was also on the expedition, showed it off at more than one school here and it has received a lot of publicity—mainly because sea iguanas haven't been a good mortality risk away from their natural environment. The trouble is getting them to eat. Apparently Dr. Lowenstein has been successful with forced feeding on Jose, using a diet of baby food, greens and seawater. He's still thriving.

"IF MORE PEOPLE knew how nice it is inside, more of them would visit here," I wrote. This was a memo to myself about Pandora in San Anselmo —touched off by a combination of several pleasant things a few evenings ago—some excellent lobster for one. Jean Denning was another. She fits right in the Pandora, alternating between playing the organ in the lounge and then cruising around the dining room with an accordion.

And then there were Sandy Sandoval's magic tricks.

LATE MEALS are becoming more popular at Confucius in Greenbrae. By that I mean right up to and even after midnight. Could be that musicians Dick Saltzman and Pierre Josephs have something to do with this trend on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays when it's most pronounced.

As often as I mention it, some still don't remember—Confucius has a complete Chinese menu AND a variety of American food. I've noticed that a few try combining the two at one sitting, which isn't a bad idea at that.

KING COTTON has added a seafood cocktail to its daily dinner specials. This was formerly reserved for Sundays and holidays. Merchants lunches here are very reasonable—starting at 95 cents (soup and sandwich), hovering around $1.10 for regular entree and beverage, and up to $1.50 for the full treatment complete with dessert. Merchants breakfasts, too—served from 6 a.m. to noon.

MIKE HICKEY, who is off to a good start at the Embers in Corte Madera, notes that on Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. he'll have the duo Tom and Lee who have been at the Purple Onion. Folksongs and hootenanny type of program.

By the way, if the door on Redwood Avenue appears to be closed for business—go around to the other side. Mike is using the parking lot entrance.

THIS WEEK'S PARTIES. San Francisco investment broker Daniel Stone put one one Monday night at La Petite Auberge celebrating the birthday of his twin sons James and Andrew, 30. Everyone came dressed the way they thought the two will look 30 years from now . . . Tiburon Tommie's Mai Tai hosted more Giants and fans Tuesday night than you could shake a bat at.

OUR SINCERE SYMPATHY to Mrs. Stella Ghilotti on the death this week of her husband, Reno, owner of the Griddle Restaurant and Pago Pago cocktail lounge in San Rafael.

VIEW SET TO MUSIC—Mount Tamalpais serves as a backdrop for entertainer Jean Denning's organ playing in the cocktail lounge at Pandora. Jean alternates her organ performances with accordion playing in the dining room. She is featured Wednesday through Sunday evenings.

Paper Drive Set

There will be a newspaper drive in Mill Valley by Boy Scouts from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. tomorrow. Newspapers should be placed on curbs, tied in small bundles, according to drive chairman Clay Underhill. If papers are not collected by 2 p.m., citizens may call the fire department so a clean-up squad may be sent out to get them.

CHARLES COLLINS

JOHN ELDER
Chosen for Boys' State

2 Mill Valley Boys Going To Boys' State

Two Mill Valley boys, Charles Collins and John Elder, were named today as representatives from Tamalpais High School to the 1964 Boys' State at Sacramento.

Collins, son of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Collins, 700 Summit Avenue, is the representative for American Legion, Mill Valley Post 284. Elder, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Lyn Elder of 271 Sycamore Avenue, is to represent American Legion, Bolinas Post 572. Both are juniors.

Elder, 17, plays French horn in the Tamalpais High School band and the Marin Symphony. He has won letters in wrestling and has been on the school's cross-country team.

Collins, 16, is on the staff of the school yearbook, PAI. At the age of 11, he went to Europe under the American Field Service program. He is interested in travel, world affairs, and in becoming a lawyer.

Boys' state is part of the American Legion's Americanism program. At Sacramento, boys and girls set up and operate a government fashioned after that of those in California on city, county and state levels.

Dave Wilkinson of Sausalito is alternate representative under Elder and Chris Dreyer of Sausalito is alternate under Collins.

Book Firm Warehouse On Planner Agenda

Plans for a warehouse covering nearly three acres north of Novato, plus offices covering more than half an acre, will be presented to the Marin County Planning Commission for McGraw-Hill Book Publishing Co. Monday.

Designed by the architectural firm of John S. Bolles of San Francisco, the two buildings will have roofs of concrete "mushrooms" rectangular fluted structures on top of poles and connected at the edges.

McGraw-Hill is asking for an adjustment to go ahead with plans for the building before filing a master plan for the entire 100-acre site. The company has announced its intention to leave the bulk of the site, across from the county airport on highway 101, undeveloped.

The item is No. 2 on the agenda for the Planning Commission meeting which starts at 9 a.m.

Also from the North Marin area, the commission will again consider the proposed quarry operation by Matich, Garnier and Long at Black Point, south of State Highway 121 and west of Harbor Drive, as item 1.

A 298-unit development of apartments and townhouses by Kaehler-Farrar Development Co. on the west side of Highway 101 just south of Lucas Valley Road will also be before the planners.

Originally Gull Meadows, the name of the project has been changed to Lucas Green. Common open areas will be included in the plans to the rear of the townhouse units. Land has been set aside for a future commercial development between the townhouses and Lucas Valley Road. The item is No. 31.

The commission will receive the latest staff recommendations on precise zoning for the Stinson Beach-Bolinas Area, (item 39), along with a proposed ordinance creating a commercial-recreation district, called for in the master plan for the area, (item 38).

Also as a part of item 38 will be recommendations on ordinance changes to allow creation of districts with minimum average lot sizes of two, three or five acres.

The commission will consider recommendations of the Public Works Department for establishment of right of way lines for North San Pedro Road, eliminating one sharp curve and widening the road to four lanes. The matter is item 37.

Aurora Services, Inc., has asked rezoning to planned residential district with average lot sizes of 20,000 square feet for about 90 acres northeast of the intersection of Tiburon Boulevard and Redwood Highway (item 23).

Assessment Information Bureaus Slated By County

Dates and locations of information bureaus in Southern and Western Marin County for property owners wishing to discuss changes in assessments have been announced by County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel.

The bureaus are established in those areas where close assessment review of properties are made. Each area is checked about once every five years in this process, and in some cases major changes in the assessed valuation of property result.

The first bureau will operate from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. April 25 at the Bolinas Community Center, concerning property in the Bolinas area, one of the regions covered in this year's review.

On May 2, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., assessor's officers will be at the firehouse in Point Reyes Station to give information on property in the Point Reyes and Inverness areas.

Next to be covered will be part of the unincorporated area near Mill Valley. Sessions are set May 5, 6 and 7 from 1 to 9 p.m. at Brown's Hall.

The final information bureau meetings will be held 1 to 9 p.m. on May 12 and 13 at the IDESST Hall, Sausalito.

LOAD OF TEACHING TO BE GIVEN STUDY

Faculty To Appear Before Board To Iron Out Way To Prevent Overcrowding Of Schedules

What began as a seemingly routine report on College of Marin teachers' work load grew last night into a two-and-one-half-hour debate and a crash program to try to cut the work load by fall.

On request of Marin Junior College District trustees, College President Stephen E. Epler agreed to meet with teachers, devise a recommendation, and call a special meeting for trustees to discuss it.

In discussion leading up to the board directive, engineer- the board directive, engineering instructor William Howe, chairman of the certificated personnel committee, said the teachers worked an average of 56.8 hours a week "over all," adding that history and political science teachers were "particularly overcrowded." Howe and other teachers urged they be required to spend less time in classroom or laboratory.

Shortly before 11 p.m., after two hours discussion, teachers appeared agreeable to a long-range study proposed by trustees. This would have had faculty leaders appear before a series of board meetings and make recommendations "department by department" in board president Robert E. Rogers' words. Eventually a new policy would ensue.

The dean of instruction Paul M. Clymer asked for board approval for him and dean of students Irwin P. Diamond to work next month on preparing next fall's teaching schedule, based "on the current policy of an 18 hour a week work load." The figure refers only to time spent in class or laboratory with students. Teachers say the actual policy is closer to 17 hours.

The meeting then gave off sounds like a tough union- employer bargaining session.

Howell Breece, English teacher, arose and said: "I think 18 is too much. Even if we have 15 this means that on a basis of two hour preparation for every hour in class or lab we work 45 hours a week. Even 15 is too much. When the work load is too heavy some teachers just don't do all the preparation."

Music instructor Larry Synder agreed, saying, "I don't care if I actually put in 80 hours a week—that is my professional attitude. I like to teach music. But 18 is too much."

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy said she did not see how the board could agree to the 15 hour figure without details to justify it.

Epler asked teachers whether they would prefer a reduced work load to a 6 per cent pay increase. Cutting the work load would "have budget implications," he said.

Epler added: "The work load is below average. And classes here are smaller than at other junior colleges."

Rogers said teachers would need to "bring us a yardstick" for comparing work loads of various departments. He and Mrs. Deedy then asked Epler to meet with the faculty and make recommendations.

Clymer had said reducing the work load as desired by teachers would require 10 additional faculty members. Instructors held the figure would be lower. Rogers said this would add $30,000 to $75,000 a year to the budget. He directed Epler to submit a recomendation that would create the least added cost.

Fashionable women have used cosmetics since antiquity. Archeologists excavating Roman ruins in Syria found ivory boxes containing white face powder, eyebrow pencils and tubes of perfume.

Marin College Budget Hike Is Forecast

A College of Marin tentative budget of $2,582,686 for fiscal 1965, $269,502 more than that adopted a year ago, was submitted to the Marin Junior College District board last night.

In submitting it, Business Mgr. Norman Bird said he expected a fall enrollment of 2,891, an increase of 482 over the present 2,409.

His figures showed that instruction carries the biggest budget increase. This totals $1,338,239, up $206,456 over this year's $1,131,783. Major portion of the instruction total is teachers' pay of $890,321, up $124,565 from this year's $765,756.

Board members agreed to discuss the budget at the next meeting, May 7.

The Marin Junior College District board also:

1. Accepted low bids from eight companies, totaling $22,772.12, for scientific equipment for the Bolinas marin biology laboratory.
2. Received report from physical edducation director Harry Pieper that the new gymnasium complex is 50 per cent complete, with work on schedule, and will be in use by fall semester.
3. Employed four teachers for next fall: Fielding Reese, architectural drafting instructor and counselor; Russell Ridge, science-engineering-mathematics division; Donald R. Greenfield, industrial arts, and Fred C. Culver, business administration; and accepted resignation of Mrs. Mary Fedde, home economics instructor.

All trustees were present until about 10:30 p.m. when trustee Robert E. Oliver went home.

Bad Weather Puts Fish Boats In Ports

Some salmon boats fished for about two hours this morning but no fish were caught because of bad weather, said Cass Gidley, owner of Casserino's, wholesale fish house in Sausalito.

Gidley said "We have about 50 boats out" but they had to head in to coastal ports because of winds. "There won't be any fish in here for several days," he said.

Printer Leaps To Death From Gate Bridge

A 51-year-old San Francisco printer, despondent over the long strike of his union, jumped off the Golden Gate Bridge Tuesday, according to a delayed report by the California Highway Patrol.

Bridge worker Richard Sewaad saw Thomas Aloysius Dillon stop his car 500 feet south of the north tower of the bridge and jump over the railing without hesitating at 10:15 a.m.

Dillon's body was recovered by the Coast Guard.

A note left in his car said he was bothered by the long strike against San Francisco commercial print shops. His wife told California Highway Patrolmen he had been despondent over the strike.

The traditional art of singing to harp accompaniment is so popular in Wales that a shortage of harps has developed.

No Clues Found In Assault Case

Search for a prowler who assaulted a 21-year-old San Franciscan visiting his in-laws' home in the Country Club area just outside San Rafael Wednesday was still without success today, Marin County sheriff's office reported.

Steven Thurman Post, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Schoonmaker, 265 Summit Avenue, was slashed four times on the upper right arm by a young man he encountered in the darkened Schoonmaker garage.

The assailant fled, but a home window was later broken, either by him or another person.

Carrow Looks Like Next Novato Mayor

Robert D. Carrow appeared today as the likeliest choice for mayor of Novato.

M. E. Babe Silva, the incumbent mayor, was defeated for re-election to the city council Tuesday. State law requires that the council name a mayor at its first meeting after the election, said City Administrator J. Julien Baget. That will put the choice up to four members—two of them chosen Tuesday—as Douglas M. Merrill, the third new member, will not be back from Australia for the meeting.

Carrow and Mrs. Lucile Cannon are the holdover council members. Mrs. Cannon said today she would favor Carrow for mayor.

William Jack Adams, elected Tuesday, said he felt the mayor should come from the holdover members.

Carrow said he "would welcome the chance to serve the city as mayor." He is on the council by appointment, filling out the term of John Angeloni, who resigned.

Third new councilmen elected Tuesday is J. Wayne Womack, who was Novato's mayor for two years following its incorporation in 1960, then did not run for re-election after a two-year term.

HELP SOUGHT AT INVERNESS

It Is Very Difficult To Handle Skunk Trapped In Garbage Can

What do you do with a live skunk in a garbage can?

You treat it about the same way you treat a bomb in a bathtub. Stand back.

There is a live skunk in a garbage can at Inverness Lodge and proprietor Milan Prokupek has thought of several things he might do with it. He has already put some distance between himself and the skunk.

The skunk is in the lodge's garbage house several hundred feet from the lodge. Prokupek is in the lodge, either writing letters or on the telephone.

He called the Marin County Humane Society.

"We have a skunk in the garbage can, please," he said.

The humane society promised to do something.

"If they do not come," Prokupek told the Independent-Journal today, "I will seal up the garbage can and send it to Alan Bruce with the skunk inside. You understand that would be a joke."

Bruce, county administrator, has already heard from Prokupek about the skunk problem. This particular skunk has made his home for several weeks under the garbage shed. It has made dumping the garbage a daily adventure at the lodge.

"I have been trying to have Bruce send a trapper," Prokupek said. He sat down again last night and wrote Bruce a letter. This was soon after Prokupek's son, Milan Jr., found the skunk inside a garbage can.

The son clapped on the lid and stood back.

"I do not want to hurt the skunk," Prokupek said. "I myself am a member of the Humane Society." He also explained that this particular skunk has almost become a pet.

"You see, it is very difficult," he said.

Jr. Chamber Votes Albert Field Tot Lot

Members of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce last night approved an expenditure of $1,300 to develop a tot lot at the northwest corner of Albert Field.

The playground, including swings, a slide and a stage coach with a team of spring-motion rocking horses, will be located where the surplus jet airplane was until three months ago.

The jet was removed because it had been virtually taken apart and was becoming hazardous.

"We're very pleased that a service club is willing to pay for this development," said Joseph D. Rodota, city park and recreation director.

Work will begin at once and the playground should be completed in 30 to 60 days, Rodota said.

The equipment, to be supplied by Designs for Play of San Rafael, will be located in a circular tanbark area, 52 feet in diameter. There will be a sand box near the center and the slide, swings and stage coach will be near the perimeter.

Rodota said the playground will be limited to children six years or under. There will be benches under nearby trees for parents.

The first federal labor relations law was enacted in 1888 and applied to railroads, providing for arbitration and presidential boards of investigation.

Marincello Aide Tells Aims Of Proposed City

Thomas Frouge, head of the company planning Marincello, a 2,000-acre planned community in the hills abutting Forts Barry and Cronkhite, made his first appearance at the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

Principal planner David Van Pelt said the office outlined zoning procedures to set the stage for Marincello as a planned community. No specific plans for the project were discussed, he said.

Frouge, who is chairman of the board of the Frouge Corp., Bridgeport, Conn., said the development firm does not intend to "pull a fast deal" in getting Marincello under way.

"We are builders under contract agreement with Gulf Oil Co., who is a financial partner in the venture. We expect to engage the finest talent in the Bay Area—people who are acquainted with all the problems—to help us," he said.

Frouge named San Francisco architects Reid and Tarics as in charge of planning the community. "But they won't be able to do anything on it until we have a full economic report on the area," he said. "We intend to engage a prominent economic consultant to make a complete study of what to expect over a 15-or 20-year period. Planning the community will be based on his recommendations—and we simply can't tell you anything about Marincello's population density or anything else until we have his report."

He said he had an appointment to talk with a San Francisco economist today. Also named as consultants were Mill Valley civil engineer D. A. Rhodes, soil specialists Harding and Associates of San Rafael, and water and sewer engineers McCreary-Koretsky of San Francisco.

Frouge described his firm as a publicly held company established in 1941 and having its stock traded over the counter.

"Marincello is our first venture on the West Coast," he said. "We have built a 25-story building in New York City, a large shopping center, similar to your Northgate, in Connecticut, and numerous apartment houses in both states. We heard how your Bay Area is developing and we wish we had come out here sooner."

An office has been opened under management of Henry M. Grant at 3030 Bridgeway, Sausalito.

Marinwood Park Aide Is Hired

Directors of the Marinwood Community Services District last night voted to hire Fred Bartlett, a retired San Quentin Prison lieutenant, as park maintenance superintendent at $425 a month.

The board also passed a resolution requesting the county board of supervisors to appoint Guy E. Baty and Boyd F. Wells and to re-appoint Robert C. Morris as directors. A special meeting was set next Thursday to review the district budget.

Baty and Wells would replace Buel Snyder and Howard Council, whose terms end this year.

Service District Directors Asked

Marin City Community Services District directors last night asked the county board of supervisors to reappoint director Jesse E. Berry for a second four-year term and Skyral Sweeney to his first term on the board.

Sweeney would replace Mrs. Juanita Cobb, who decided not to run for another term.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday to plan the summer recreation program, said secretary John A. Thomson. Representatives of Camp Fire Girls and Girl Scouts will meet with the board.

The board voted to give $100 to the Marin City Pony League when and if a team is formed. The money would be for baseball equipment.

Golden Gate State Park Is Now Over 400 Acres

The size of the proposed Golden Gate State Park has increased to more than 400 acres with the state's purchase of 31 acres of government land within the boundaries of Fort Cronkhite for $16,250.

Negotiations for the sale began about four years ago when the federal General Services Administration offered land at Forts Baker and Cronkhite to the state at half its assessed valuation instead of selling a portion of it for commercial development by private interests.

The government's offer was considered a victory for the State Division of Beaches and Parks and the late Rep. Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera)—who introduced a bill providing conveyance of the property to the state under the Surplus Property Act.

Last October, the State Public Works Board approved negotiations to purchase the 31 acres at Fort Cronkhite with the federal General Services Administration.

The land adjoins 161.5 acres previously acquired by the state for the proposed 3,000-acre park. About 130 acres at Fort Baker also have been purchased by the state for the recreational area.

Bus Workers Reach Agreement

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Western Greyhound Bus Lines and the Amalgamated Transit Unions have announced agreement on a new two-year contract.

The contract covers 5,000 bus drivers, station personnel and office employees in 11 western states.

Ed Oliver, international representative of the unions, said yesterday that the contract provides a fifth week of vacation for veteran employees and a seven-hour day for office workers. Others terms of the contract were undisclosed pending membership ratification.

Settlement Near In Cal Poly Air Crash Claims

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State attorney General's office today said a half million dollar settlement was near in the 1960 Cal Poly football team airplane crash which killed 22 persons.

"It appears an agreement has been reached, but it's a couple of months off at least," Frederick G. Girard, a deputy attorney general said.

Girard said the state would pay slightly more than $185,000, and Lloyds of London slightly more than $315,000. Lloyds of London was the insurance carrier for the airline, Artic Pacific.

The twin-engine DC-3 plane, with 45 passengers and three crew members aboard, crashed Oct. 29, 1960, while attempting to take off in heavy fog from the Toledo, Ohio, Airport. An engine stalled.

Bay Model Pays For Self, Serves Taxpayers Well

We must confess to having wondered on occasion whether the Army Engineers' Bay Model at Sausalito was not just one more bureaucratic boondoggle.

We wondered if it was not an adult toy of sorts, providing the opportunity to play at model building under the guise of scientific research of sorts.

And when a great cry came up for its continuation as the end of appropriations for its operation came in view, we must confess to having thought that it probably would be just as well to fold it up and get its expense off the taxpayers' backs.

None of this ever became a conviction; we just wondered at times.

But we know now that we were wrong.

We have it on the word of Lt. Col. Robert H. Allan, the District Engineer, that the model already has paid for itself.

The Corps of Engineers, he explains, does continuous dredging in San Francisco Bay and its tributaries to keep ship channels open.

Through study of tidal currents and other factors, using the Bay Model, the Corps of Engineers has discovered better ways to dispose of dredged materials.

The savings that result, said Colonel Allan, are more than paying for the model.

It is as simple as that.

And the model has many, many more useful applications.

Not the least of these is the study of pollution.

Before the year 2020, population will have grown so dense around the perimeter of the bay that the residual pollutants dumped into it will have made it hardly more than a great cesspool.

This is NOT fantasy. In one of the first dispatches which the I-J received earlier this week from the newly acquired Advance News Service, the problem of pollution in the lower Mississippi River was reported in considerable detail. The lower Mississippi basin has become "cemetery for millions of dead fish," ANS reported.

This is the threat that faces San Francisco Bay and tributaries.

There are ways to meet the threat. The Corps of Engineers is assisting various agencies at all levels of government to find solutions.

One solution—simple in concept but complex in execution—would be just to carry all sewage from the Bay Area over to the ocean shore and dump it offshore, away from the bay.

Space prevents going into detail on other problems which the Bay Model can help delineate and solve.

The principal point we want to make is only that we taxpayers have been and can continue to get our money's worth from the Bay Model for a long time to come.

Roses, Aphids And Lady Bugs

Marin's roses will soon be in full bloom on fences and in gardens. Along with the roses come a series of related insects—ants, aphids and lady bugs.

The ants keep herds of aphids which they "milk" for a secretion called honey dew. These "ant-cows" are put to pasture on various tender plants—young rose leaves are a favorite.

The lady bugs like aphids too—like man likes beefsteak. Aphids are the major item in the diet of the average lady bug. In some parts of California, lady bugs are captured and sold by the pound for aphid control.

If you have roses in your yard, chances are that you also have ants, aphids and lady bugs. They seem to go together.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Who Is This Man Jess France? Here's Background, Some Views

By WAT TAKESHITA

TAKESHITA

WHO IS THIS Jess France, who is running for supervisor in Ross Valley?

This question keeps popping up. Today we present a bit of his background and some of his views.

The other two in the race are better known. Bill Fusselman needs no introduction. Ernest Kettenhofen has also been active in various fields, especially as president of the Marin General Hospital board. He is a resort owner, rancher and former land developer.

BUT TO GET back to France.

A resident of Sleepy Hollow, France was 1962 president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce. He was vice consul to Bolivia in 1945-46 and then served as business specialist with the U. S. Department of Commerce office in San Francisco.

He is on the board of directors of Marin United Crusade and served on the board of the Marin Development Assn. and the Bay Area Council.

He is a partner in the stock brokerage firm of York and Co. A native of El Paso, Tex., he earned his master's degree from University of Washington in 1945 and came to Marin in 1947.

HERE ARE some of his views:

"Marin's inherent charm and natural beauty are being threatened through lack of planning. . . .

"I larger planning staff is a necessity. . . . Very little thought has been given to the problems of growth before they become severe problems. Instead, they are handled on a day-to-day basis after they arise.

"Too much time is wasted in arguing over details such as the cost of a typewriter . . . and adequate time is not devoted to policy and coping with long-range problems.

"If elected supervisor, I will give department heads authority to carry out board policies and then back them up. Where necessary, I will try to install top-caliber men in departments that need beefing up."

FRANCE SUPPORTS continuation of the Civic Center building program. He favors close cooperation between county and city administrations.

"In the fields of police and fire protection, complete cooperation and coordination of county and city facilities can save money. There are also a multitude of sanitation districts which are generally small and inefficient. The county should take the lead to coordinate these services on an efficient basis."

He says private building industry should be encouraged and assisted in helping to alleviate the housing shortage of elderly citizens. "However, it is up to the board of supervisors to provide leadership in solving this problem."

Good Teen-Ager Returns Money

Editor, Independent-Journal:

So often we get reports about teen-agers that are not good. I should like to tell something about a teen-ager that is good.

One Saturday I was shopping at Safeway in Mill Valley. I had just cashed a $100 check and had put five crisp $20 bills in my purse. As I neared my car I noticed that my purse was open. I looked in my purse and found that I had only one $20 bill. Four had slipped out of my purse.

I rushed back into the store and reported my loss to the manager. He said, "Yes, we have your $80. One of our Saturday boys picked the money up and gave it to me." He pointed the boy out to me. He is Richard Tremelling, a 17-year-old senior at Tam Hi. I tried to give him a reward, but he would not hear of it. After a long argument, I made him take a little something.

This is just one instance. There are others I know. Let's look for the good teenagers. I'm sure we will find many of them.

Integration No Threat To Tract

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mrs. Hanford's colorful observations deserve a reply. Unfortunately, a merely adequate reply would amount to an educational undertaking too vast to be contained on these pages. Nevertheless, two points need to be made:

1. The violence one does to the logical process when one generalizes from selected experiences is compounded when that experience is misunderstood. Slum, and incipient slum conditions are related to class, not to race.

2. If one must generalize from limited experience, it is not necessary to acquire that experience elsewhere. The Eichler tracts in Marin County offer considerable evidence that integration of housing offers no threat, aesthetic, economic or otherwise.

United Nations Not Helping Much

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Just a few brief observations re: Mrs. Mennick's letter in tonight's (April 13) I-J.

It is very true that the stated aims of the U. N. and the U. N. Charter are masterpieces of high-sounding phraseology, but (to do a little mixing here), the proof of the pudding is in the eating! The picture on the package is beautiful, and the individual ingredients may be wholesome enough in their individual selves, but when all mixed up together by a whole kitchen full of cooks, each with his own ideas, what an unwholesome mess results!

This we have in the U. N. Many nations, many varieties of democracies, many degrees of socialism, plus the shadowing of the atheistic, Godless, treaty-breaking Communistic regime, and who can deny that, stirred up together, this is an unwholesome mess?

On the subject of Hungary, please tell me how many freedom-fighters were brought back to life by the U. N. observers team after being riddled with Russian lead, fired from Soviet machine guns, mounted in Soviet tanks, and manned by Soviet troops?

Did the indicting of the Soviets for violation of the U. N. Charter free Hungary?

Have the resolutions indicting the aggressors in Korea and Tibet solved anything?

North Korea is still Communist and in recent news dispatched there were articles about border clashes between U. S. and North Korean troops — on the South Korean side of the border! Tibet is still captive. . . .

Here's to the day when we quit being the "patsy," and start calling the shots!

Assessment Equality Asked

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I heard the KTIM broadcast Monday night (April 13) that originated at College of Marin. And I was surprised to hear our assessor, Mr. Broemmel, question the motivation of another man because he was associated with the Henry George School of Social Science.

Mr. Broemmel may sincerely believe that it is better to get local revenue by taxing improvements more than land or by levying sales taxes. Those who understand what Henry George wrote have good reasons for believing it is better to get revenue from the value of land, a value that is not created by the individual landholder.

But this divergence of opinion was not at issue on Thursday night.

What was at issue was whether Mr. Broemmel was treating homeowners as equitably as land speculators under existing law. Holders of either form of property — homes or vacant lots—should be treated the same. Our state constitution requires this, and Mr. Broemmel claims he is doing it. But there is very convincing evidence that he is not. And it was indeed shocking to hear Mr. Broemmel resort to impugning the motives of those who had studied the evidence against him.

If it takes a knowledge of Henry George's writings to get our citizens to enforce existing law and to see how much damage is being done by the illegal under-assessment of unimproved land, then we need more citizens with such knowledge.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

JACK BENNY HAS a story about a race track habitue who was down to his last two bucks. A sympathetic redhead said, "I know an old Irish trick to change your luck. I'll pull out one hair from my head. Wrap it around the two dollars before you place your bet and see what happens."

What happened is that the gent put the two dollars on a 100-to-1 shot — and won! When he repeated the process successfully on the next three races, he ecstatically proposed to the girl, "Love Boat, with your hair and my selections, we're an unbeatable combination. Let's get married!"

They were wed, and for the next five years the hair pulling and wagering were faithfully continued. So today she is totally bald and he's shining shoes at the outside of a race track.

THE LATE Christopher Morley met a newspaper editor at a banquet, and the discussion soon centered on a sensational murder case that was front-page news all over the country. A beautiful young wife and her chauffeur had chopped her poor husband into a great number of pieces. Mused the editor, "The front page sure makes strange bedfellows!" "In my opinion," countered Morley, "it's the other way around."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Republican Group Seeking To Set GOP Thinking In Vital U.S. Areas

WASHINGTON — The Republican Critical Issues Council, headed by Dr. Milton Eisenhower, is aiming to do far more than to issue position papers on critical issues.

This is the declared purpose—to set out Republican thinking on the vital matters which will figure in the campaign. Judging from the first sample, on what went wrong in Panama and what to do about it, the council is going to say things worth listening to without any super-heated campaign oratory.

THE UNDECLARED purposes reach farther. It's all to the good to try to stimulate public opinion by well-formulated policy pronouncements. That's useful in itself. But the goals of the Critical Issues Council reach to:

Shaping the 1964 platform substantially in the image of Eisenhower Republicanism—moderate, internationalist, not extremist.

Strengthening the presidential wing of the Republican Party so that it can exert the maximum influence at the convention.

Providing a set of policy positions on the big issues which voters can put alongside the competing Republican presidential candidates so as to see where they would be taking the party and the country.

Influencing the voting of Republican congressmen and senators on the ground that how the party votes prior to the campaign is more important than what it says during the campaign.

THIS IS WHAT makes the Critical Issues Council a highly potent and significant group which knows where it is going and how to get there. The council was brought into being at the initiative of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Its work is being directed by General Eisenhower's widely experienced brother, who was one of his most trusted counselors during his eight years in the White House.

Its top personnel of 25 includes a wide array of former Eisenhower cabinet members and other leading Eisenhower administration officials, such as Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson (who just resigned from the council to help President Lyndon B. Johnson negotiate with Panama), Secretaries of Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby and Marion B. Folsom, Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission Lewis L. Strauss, Arthur F. Burns, Chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, and Kieth Glennan, NASA administrator.

THE FORTHCOMING position papers on the major issues—14 in all—will reflect the concensus of the presidential wing of the Republican Party and the leading candidates for the Republican presidential nomination except Sen. Barry Goldwater.

But they are not likely to please some of the Republican leaders in Congress who constitute the authoritative Republican voice when the party does not control the White House. The Panama report, for example, is known to have infuriated Sen. Everett Dirksen, State minority leader, and some others because it didn't charge President Johnson with being an "appeaser"—a slogan they planned to carry into the campaign.

The position papers will undoubtedly fit Lodge, Nixon, Scranton, even Rockefeller, most comfortably.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Unpublished Policy Aid To Reds In Africa

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The State Department is spending more time and energy discouraging U. S. and foreign shippers from exporting goods to South Africa than to Cuba.

Authorities led by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Undersecretary Averell Harriman are privately passing the word to airlines and shipping firms to abide by the economic sanctions being imposed by African countries against the Johannesburg government.

In sharp contrast, Rusk and Harriman are supporting a policy whereby the U.S. provides navigational help and vital weather information to Soviet jet transports flying strategic cargo and arms to Cuba non-stop from Russia.

THE UNANNOUNCED State Department boycott against South Africa is in addition to the announced policy of the Johnson administration barring arms shipments to the all-white regime.

Authority for this boycott is spelled out in a highly classified National Security Council policy paper on South Africa.

Drafted by the State Department's policy planning council, the new paper is the first major policy on Africa approved by the president since he took office.

WHITE HOUSE insiders report that the policy paper was rushed through the security council at "lightning speed" on the ground that U. S. diplomats needed guidelines to deal with possible new explosive events in Africa.

One key State Department official, after reading the top-secret document, reported the policy is so anti-South Africa that it puts the U. S. on the side of the African nations, Russia and Communist China in their efforts to topple that government.

THE PAPER also advocates a "hands off" policy on Zanzibar, the first nation to fall into the Soviet orbit since Johnson took office.

It bars the use of U. S. military force to recover the valuable space tracking equipment on the island.

Defense Intelligence Agency warnings reveal that the Kremlin is planning to install anti-aircraft missiles similar to those given Castro.

FORMER President Dwight D. Eisenhower has made a final break with Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson.

In a series of letters to Congressmen, Eisenhower has thanked them for denouncing former political associates of his, including Benson, who are members of the John Birch Society.

"I am grateful for your letter," Eisenhower wrote Rep. Ralph Harding, (D-Ida.), "and for the speech that you made in Congress concerning the support and encouragement that the former Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Benson, has been giving to a Mr. Welch, said to be the founder and leader of the John Birch Society.

"Your honest and unselfish efforts to set the record straight warm my heart.

"Frankly, because I rarely read such trash as I understand 'The Politician' (to be), I had never before read the specific accusations made against me by Robert Welch. But it is good that when they were brought to your attention you disregarded all partisan influence to express your honest convictions about the matter."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Adults Decide, So You Won't Find Bobbsie Twins At Library

THERE ARE NO COPIES of any of the Bobbsie Twins books in the county library. The same goes for Tom Corbett, Space Cadet, or Nancy Drew.

These books can be purchased, of course, at a very low cost, in book stores, and even used clothing stores like the Goodwill, but the county library will not fill the need for free.

Mrs. Virginia Keating, county librarian, has an interesting explanation. These works are of such poor quality, they do not deserve to be in the county's children's collections. There is only so much money, and there are many better books.

In fact, there are committees to decide what is good quality in children's books. Many parents must have had the feeling, in making similar selections, that the choice was based mainly on adult tastes. Dr. Seuss is an example of an author liked largely by the parents.

In the adult collection, Mrs. Keating conceded, many books comparable in quality to Nancy Drew series selections may be found. But here, the selection is forced, to some extent, by demands.

ADULTS PAY taxes, and so can make demands. Also, adults know what are the best-sellers, no matter how poorly written they are. Children have to be told.

But it seems that the children may be excluded from a great part of Americana by not seeing these books, which still seem to be written continuously. Perhaps somewhere, other than in the Library of Congress, which has everything, there ought to be gathered together a collection of the kind of trash that the great statesmen of today and yesterday cut their reading teeth on.

OLD COPIES of "Captain Billy's Whizbang" could be disinterred. Perhaps a collector has saved some of these. After all, comic strips have almost been recognized as an art form, and records are carefully kept of old panels of Krazy Kat and Smokey Stover, now no longer seen.

Some of the older books once well read by children can be found in the library now, perhaps, but often in the oddest places. The same goes for books not so well loved.

For instance, there is a collection of Horatio Alger books, but the kids have to keep their grubby hands off of these. They are collector's items, and are secluded, for the use of researchers.

THE LIBARY has no Edgar Rice Burroughs titles, which bothers this writer, who is a science fiction buff. But Burroughs also wrote "Tarzan." Mrs. Keating replies that Burroughs, if there were books, would probably be in the adult collection anyway.

It may not be premature to make a prediction that someday Tom Corbett books will command high prices in auction houses, and the few libraries which were foolish enough to buy them long ago may find themselves rich.

After all, it has happened with old doorknobs and rocking chairs. Just let it get old enough and scarce enough.

Marinite In Model U.N. Role

Helge Harald Bruckner, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Bruckner of 168 Camino De Herrera, San Anselmo, will play the role of diplomat from the Republic of Iraq at the Model United Nations Assembly this weekend in Spokane, Wash.

Bruckner, a senior at Sonoma State College majoring in political science, is participating with eight fellow students from the college in the Model U.N. assembly composed of delegations from 110 colleges and universities on the West Coast and in mountain states.

He is a graduate of Drake High School and College of Marin.

ART BUCHWALD

Columnist Comes Clean And Lists Recent Expenditures And Payola

WASHINGTON—Rep. Steven B. Derounian (R-N.Y.) has just introduced a bill in Congress that could have very interesting ramifications. Mr. Derounian's bill requires public disclosure of all business dealings and financial statements by newsmen, editors, TV station owners, government officials and employees, judges, members of Congress, lobbyists and their families.

Derounian insists on including the press and television because, he says, "these people have the power to mould public opinion and so individually can manipulate the federal government."

WE FIRST MET the good congressman in December, 1959, in Paris at the Hotel George V where he had been flown over with his wife on a free airline junket. Even at that time Derounian told us how worried he was about persons in positions of influence accepting gifts from outsiders.

We're happy to see he has finally decided to do something about it.

As a moulder of public opinion and one who is constantly manipulating the federal government, we are in favor of the Derounian bill and rather than wait for it to be passed we feel we should make a full disclosure of our financial dealings with members of the government. We hope other newspapermen follow suit so there will be no shade of suspicion against our profession and everyone can say, "I don't care what they say about Congress—at least the press is clean."

FIRST WE WOULD like to list our expenditures.

We gave $45.50 to Pierre Salinger in a poker game on Jan. 6, 1964. The reason we gave it to him is that he had a pair of aces and we had a pair of kings.

ON FEB. 11, we lent $5 to Rep. John Lindsay (R-N.Y.), interest-free as he was taking our daughters to a movie and didn't have enough money.

On March 3, 1964, we took Commissioner Mortimer Caplin of the Internal Revenue Service to lunch which cost $4.40 including the tip. We had hoped to persuade him to forget about our income tax return, but Caplin said it was out of his hands.

Now for some payoffs. Sen. Hugh Scott took us to lunch at the Senate dining room to secure our influence in helping to make the American rose the national flower. The lunch cost $6.

SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER sent us a book, retail value $4.50, concerning the things he believed in.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller sent us his book, retail value $6.95, concerning his philosophy.

A paid lobbyist for the cigar industry gave us a box of Tampa cigars in regard to a column we had written against cigarette smoking.

The Barbie Doll people gave us Barbie and Ken dolls completely outfitted. The value of the gift was $1,565.80.

That just about does it. But from now on, for Derounian's sake, we're going to keep records.

Our only fear is that if the bill passes there may be some disgruntled editors who feel the congressman is interfering with the freedom of the press. And these people can be very vindictive. The first thing they'd probably do is spell di Roonian's name wrong.

MAC DISCOUNT DEPARTMENT STORE 555 FRANCISCO BLVD.

Dorothy Kell Furniture Plans To Move

Dorothy Kell Furniture of San Rafael will move to Corte Madera about July 1, it was announced today.

The store has been located at 1151 Fifth Avenue in the Independent-Journal Building almost six years. It opened in Mill Valley in 1949.

It will be relocated in a new building on Nellen Drive in the Fifer Industrial Park near Lucky Drive. Construction is now under way by the William H. McDevitt Co.

The new structure will include warehouse space for goods now stored at 1000 F Street, San Rafael. A parking lot will accommodate 20 cars.

Mrs. Kell said she and her partner, Mrs. Jan Fleischer, originally specialized in early American reproductions when they opened the store in Mill Valley, but in the last several years they have evolved a decorative type of business.

This has made a downtown San Rafael location unnecessary, she said, and a more important consideration is having the store and warehouse consolidated in one building.

Inflationary Boom Feared

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — William McChesney Martin, Federal Reserve Board chairman, expects business to get better but he fears there could be an inflationary boom.

"The emphasis now has shifted from fear of deflation to fear of inflationary pressures that will be difficult to contain," Martin told a news conference yesterday.

"I share that fear.

"We have had an unusual period of price stability, and now many businesses are poised to raise their prices if they can," he said.

Martin is here to attend the annual meeting of the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank.

Steel Rally Helps Mart Close High

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher again today in active trading.

Steels rallied late in the day.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.9 million shares compared with 5.27 million yesterday.

Selective strength in airlines and motors aided the upward movement.

Early in the afternoon a block of 191,811 shares of Gulf Oil was traded at 55, off 5/8. The 10.5-million-dollar value of the block was believed the largest in history, a New York Stock Exchange spokesman said.

Texas Gulf Sulphur was experiencing another hectic session. Yesterday the stock traded over 400,000 shares, gained 7 points and was the most active issue.

The opening was delayed 75 minutes today. Then after gaining another 5 trading was suspended. When the stock reopened it was traded at 42, up 5⅝ on 40,000 shares. The price dropped back a few points late in the session.

Among the steels Lukens jumped about 5.

Pan American World posted the biggest advance among the airlines, close to 3.

U.S. Smelting was up 5 as was IBM. Control Data advanced 2.

AT&T advanced nearly 2½.

American Stock Exchange prices were irregularly lower.

Corporate bonds were mixed with rails higher. U.S. government bonds were quiet with a few small losses.

Rise In Consumer Spending Helps Nation's Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sharp rise in consumer spending was the major factor expanding the nation's economy in the first three months of 1964, the Commerce Department reported today.

The annual rate of purchases for personal consumption increased 8.1 billion dollars in the first three months. President Lyndon B. Johnson reported that the Gross National Product—the total of all goods and services—increased about 8:5 billion dollars on an annual rate basis to 608.5 billion dollars.

The advance for the first quarter of 1964 was not as great as the increase in the final three months of 1963, and the Commerce Department said this was largely due to a decrease in the rate of business inventory expansion.

It's Certainly Fun To Make Money

Psychology Of Stock Market Timing

By PETER WYCKOFF
(Last in a Series)

Hardly anything is more fun than making money, especially if one's own personal labor is not involved. By occasionally buying stocks when they seem overvalued, many individuals have managed to gain the price of leisure to travel, pay for their children's education, or put aside a nest egg for themselves in later years. The market will never be their principal occupation, and they have no intention of ever playing recklessly with stocks.

Most securities are bought and held on a cash basis today. For one reason, owning a stock outright is safer than holding it on margin; for another, all over-the-counter securities and most stocks selling below 5 must be paid in full.

Stocks bought on margin account for only about 25 per cent of the total shares traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Individuals in upper income brackets do two-thirds of all margin trading today.

But owning stocks outright is by no means sure protection against possible loss. If you pay $10,000 for shares that decline to a value of $7,000, you obviously have a terrible paper loss that you may continue to have for several years, even though you are not compelled to sell.

Many people got walloped in 1929 because they had their stocks so well-margined, or fully paid for, that they were able to hold on too long. They would have dropped less money if they had been sold out of the market on the first big dip.

We often hear of this or that stock being recommended as one "to put away in your box and forget." But no stock should ever be considered that safe.

The term "gilt-edged" has been tarnished by the passing years. New inventions and discoveries, changes in industry and automation are always making certain methods and products obsolete, while others are coming constantly to the fore.

Before the automobile rolled into view, one-fourth of all goods sold by the biggest hardware company in the United States had something to do with a horse, a buggy, or a wagon.

But how would you like to have been locked up during the early auto days with stock in a company making buggy whips? Before the Civil War canal stocks were among the most conservative of investments. And most people who owned such stocks put them away in their vault.

But it is a strange fact that these same canal stocks reached their all-time highs shortly before they started a descent that continued all the way to zero.

One should determine at the time of purchase just how far down a particular stock might carry—in other words, what its downside liability is—before you will believe that it is not as good as you first thought. Having decided to limit your possible loss to a predetermined amount, then you are just as safe holding the stock on margin—possibly even safer.

An old Wall Street maxim advises to "sell on the first margin call." This means that it has proved much wiser in the long run to sell enough stock to bring your account down to the broker's requirements than to put up additional margin.

Here are some points for traders:

Declines are usually broader and more rapid than advances.

Dullness after a long decline usually foreshadows a rise.

What grows rapidly in the market is generally short lived.

Slow movements are usually safer to follow than fast ones.

Beware of a stock which lags behind in an otherwise strong market.

The market seldom remains long in one position. A violent move usually follows extreme narrowness.

The particular merit of any stock is temporarily irrelevant when the general market is declining.

The best trading media are stocks that are most active in terms of daily volume.

Abnormal volume following a substantial move nearly always means that a trend reversal is imminent.

The market always seems to be strongest at its weakest point (top) and weakest at its strongest point (bottom).

One extreme in the market is generally followed by another in the opposite direction and with the same intensity.

Greater activity on the decline than on the preceding advance indicates that the selling is better than the buying.

Mistrial Declared In Ambush Slaying

JACKSON, Miss (UPI)—A circuit court jury deadlocked at 8 to 4 for acquittal today and a mistrial was declared for the second time in the case of Byron de la Beckwith, charged with the ambush slaying of Negro leader Mergar Evers.

"No sir," the jurors one by one told circuit Judge Leon Hendrick when he asked them individually if they felt they could come to a unanimous decision.

Hendrick promptly declared the mistrial, the same action he took last February when another all-white jury deadlocked 6-6 in its deliberation of the case.

Hendrick said later Beckwith's case would be continued until the May term of court.

This is an automatic in the case of criminal cases.

A decision on whether Beckwith will be tried an unprecedented third time will be determined when the case comes up again on Hendricks' calendar.

The 12 white jurors had their bags all packed and within five minutes of Hendrick's mistrial announcement they were homeward bound.

Court room spectators showed no reaction to the second mistrial.

They had deliberated 10 hours since receiving the case yesterday.

In Beckwith's first trial the jury stayed out eleven hours and one minute before announcing it was deadlocked.

"We cannot come to a decision," several jurors said when polled by Hendrick.

Within 30 minutes of the decision, Beckwith, a 43-year-old fertilizer salesman, was released on $10,000 bond.

Anchorage Takes Steps To Rebuild

ANCHORAGE (AP)—The Anchorage City Council, acting just three weeks after Alaska's great earthquake, took the first step early today in a 50-million-dollar plan to rebuild this shattered city.

The plan includes a new 30-acre central business core—possibly bordered by an "earthquake park"—served by large parking areas and fed by one-way traffic.

The plan would be effected through an urban renewal project designed to qualify for 75 per cent federal money.

A consulting firm, Candeub, Fleissig and Associates, Newark, N.J., prepared the proposal under a $35,000 contract with the Alaska Housing Authority.

The council in a 9-0 vote authorized the authority to seek the federal funds.

The urban area of Anchorage, largest city in Alaska with a metropolitan population of 100,000, suffered an estimated 200 million dollars loss in the 750-million-dollar quake March 27. The upheaval destroyed 215 homes and left 157 commercial buildings unusable in the Anchorage area.

Big Influx Of Seashore Visitors Is Forecast

A national park official last night warned 40 members of the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce to be prepared for an annual influx of two to three million visitors to Point Reyes National Seashore.

Warren Hamilton, director of the western region of the National Park Service, spoke at the West Marin Community Center in Point Reyes Station.

He said the park will have facilities only for camping and maybe a few concessions in the Limantour Spit area. All other services will be outside the park. Hamilton did not make specific recommendations on what services should be provided nor did he suggest any locations.

"Our master plan is supposed to show us that," Chamber President Mrs. Ralph Benevenga said today. She said little preparatory work can be done until the master plan is completed.

Young Adults Topic Of Panel

"Problems of the young adult" will be the fourth in a series of public forums sponsored by the College of Marin, to be held at 8 p.m. Monday in room 1 of Harlan Hall on the Kentfield campus.

Panel members are Jeanne Knakal of the Family Service Agency; George Renworth, principal of San Quentin Prison's high school; Mrs. Roger Schaufel, writer, and Dr. Edward Stein, dean of students and pastoral psychologist at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo.

Dr. Samuel N. Lecount, College of Marin counselor, will moderate the discussion, which will be broadcast over KTIM-FM.

Family Night Set For Phone Operators

Family night will be held for Marin County employees of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. from 7 to 9 p.m. next Thursday in the newly-remodeled business office of the company in Mill Valley at 128 Throckmorton Avenue.

Refreshments will be served and there will be a demonstration on space communication and a photographic exhibit showing the evolution of the telephone, according to C. F. Berlenbach Jr., manager in Southern Marin. The office has been enlarged by about one-third of its former size.

The United States had only six miles of railroad track in 1831. Today, there are more than 200,000 miles of first track mileage.

SEVEN STORIES OF HOT AIR

Balloonists Plan To Fly Over Golden Gate Bridge

Two balloonists plan to fly their seven-story hot air balloons from Mill Valley or Tennessee Valley at 9 a.m. tomorrow. Their destination: the Golden Gate Bridge as a passby and Contra Costa County for a landing.

William Berry, 36, of Concord, father of six children, and Richard Higbie, about 36, of Newport Beach, Orange County, are making a "dry run" flight in preparation for a proposed balloon race in which about a dozen balloonists are to compete.

Berry, who works in sales for a plastics firm near Martinez, and Higbie, an attorney, have selected their take-off points so their balloons will drift with prevailing winds past Golden Gate Bridge, which they plan to photograph.

Depending on the wind, they will either take off from Tennessee Valley near the Manuel V. Lopes ranch or Alto near Enchanted Knolls Point.

Berry said the balloons are powered by propane burners, have coated nylon coverings, are filled with hot air, and when inflated stretch seven stories high. One has a basket, the other a seat on which to ride. Berry's balloon is called "City of San Francisco."

Both men have been aloft in balloons many times in Southern California, Berry said.

The American look in international hotels emerged in 1946 when President Harry Truman and the State Department became concerned about the economies of Latin American countries. They agreed that an increasing flow of dollar-bearing tourists would help — if there were adequate hotels to accommodate them.

A.F. Colonel Is Assigned To Alaska

Lt. Col. Marvin H. Good, who has been commander of the 84th Interceptor Squadron for the past three years, has been reassigned to the 317th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Elmendorf Air Force Base, Alaska, and soon will leave Hamilton Air Force Base.

A native of Dearborn, Mich., Colonel Good came to Hamilton in January, 1956. He was assigned to the Western Air Defense Force at that time. He was later named head of the 28th Air Division Tactical Evaluation Team. In July, 1961, he became commander of the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron.

Colonel Good entered military service in June, 1942. He received his first overseas assignment at Neubilberg, Germany, in 1945. He served as a squadron commander in the 33rd and 86th Fighter Group. He also saw overseas duty in Japan.

He and his wife, Jeanne, and their three children live at 271 Las Lomas Drive on the base.

Featured Speakers

San Rafael pharmacists John Heard, Robert Gibson, Daniel Donovan and William Bacon will be among the featured speakers at the annual reunion of the University of California Pharmacy Alumni Assn. next Thursday in the auditorium of U.C.'s San Francisco campus.

Gen. Dean Will Speak At Scout Honor Court

Maj. Gen. William F. Dean (USA-Ret.), hero of the Korean War and recipient of the Congressional Medal of Honor, will be principal speaker at the Court of Honor at 8 p.m. next Friday of Boy Scout Troop and Explorer Post 28 in Ruby Scott Auditorium of Tamalpais High School.

General Dean will deliver the Eagle challenge to three members of Troop 28 who have earned scouting's highest award.

The Scouts to receive Eagle rank are Nicholas B. Gravem III, Robert J. Meier and Cary Taylor. They bring to 21 the number of Troop 28 Scouts who have attained this rank.

Participating in the ceremonies will be Paul M. Dunn, scout executive for the Marin Council, and Woodrow Wilson Smith, field executive for the Redwood District.

Members of Cub Scout Pack, Boy Scout Troop and Explorer Post 28 will present a series of sketches portraying the history of scouting.

Following the presentation of Eagle badges, a reception will be held in the auditorium for families and guests of the Scouts.

The three boys to be honored are each 15 years old. All are sophomores at Tamalpais High School.

Nick Gravem is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas B. Gravem Jr. of 38 Lincoln Avenue, Mill Valley. He belongs to the Episcopal Church of Our Savior and is a member of his school's "C" basketball team. Now junior assistant scoutmaster of Troop 28, he also has been assistant patrol leader, patrol leader, senior patrol leader and scribe.

Robert Meier is a son of Mrs. Erika Meier of 16 Hill Street, Mill Valley. He belongs to Mill Valley Community Church, Sierra Club, Marin Coin Club, and Tam High German Club. He is a junior assistant scoutmaster and previously was assistant patrol leader, patrol leader and senior patrol leader.

Cary Taylor is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Taylor of 107 Elm Street, Mill Valley. He belongs to the Church of Our Savior, where he serves as senior acolyte, and to Marin Coin Club, and builds model airplanes. He has been assistant patrol leader, patrol leader and senior patrol leader in the troop and is active in Post 28.

Louis Wayers is scoutmaster of Troop 28.

In World War II, when President Franklin Roosevelt ordered temporary buildings erected, he reportedly told the builder, "I want you to design these so they will fall down after seven years. I don't want this war to make Washington any uglier."

Political Extremists Of Right, Left Hit

Extremists of both the right and the left can prove embarrassing to both the Democratic and Republican parties, a prominent Marin County Democrat declared yesterday at the final meeting of the Action Course in Practical Politics.

Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Tiburon, member of the State Democratic Central Committee, spoke at a luncheon meeting at Sabella's Restaurant before an audience of 40.

Charles Michals of Kentfield, president of the Marin Republican Council, was the Republican speaker.

The non-partisan course was sponsored by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce and the Marin Medical Society Auxiliary. National Committeewoman Elizabeth Gatov and Assemblyman William T. Bagley had been scheduled to speak but could not attend because of other commitments.

Jack Nixon of San Rafael served as discussion leader and moderator. Mrs. Elmer Weden, president-elect of the medical auxiliary, and Mrs. L. D. Leininger, outgoing president, were in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Swadesh described as "extreme" some of the demonstrations at auto agencies in San Francisco and some of the views of the Birch Society. But she acknowledged both extremes have a right to exercise their views.

Michals commended the course in politics as a "giant step forward" in improving both political parties. He urged citizens to "make use of what you have learned" by working for the party of their choice. "Master the ways of politics or be mastered by those who do," said Michals.

Both speakers explained why they chose their respective party affiliations and answered questions on politics in general.

Teen Dance Tonight

The Mill Valley Teen Club will hold a dance at 8:30 p.m. today for members and guests at the American Legion Hall. The Executives, a six-piece band, including a saxophone player and vocalist, from Tamalpais and Redwood high schools, will play.

Green, protege of Frank Lloyd Wright and visiting lecturer on the faculty of the architecture department at Stanford University, and Norvell Gillespie, author of "5,001 Garden Questions and Answers."

Judging horticultural exhibits will be Harry Nelson, instructor of ornamental horticulture at San Francisco City College; Dick Dunmire, who is on the staff of Sunset magazine, and Donald Perry, owner of the Sunnyside Nursery in San Anselmo and past president of the California Assn. of Nurserymen.

Alvin Worries As Giants Slump

Suddenly, with the 1964 campaign just three games old, there has been an absence of hitting by the power laden San Francisco Giants.

"I'm not pleased with the way we're hitting the ball," is the way Manager Alvin Dark nicely says it as his Giants seek to square their series with the St. Louis Cardinals tonight.

No runs in the last 14 innings is the way the records show it.

Dark credited Cardinal Curt Simmons with a great job in his three-single 2-0 shutout over the Giants in Candlestick Park yesterday. He hopes the San Francisco bats, which boomed so mightily in spring training, will come to life tonight when Roger hurls for St. Louis and Billy O'Dell for the Giants.

Remember Wednesday night when the Giants scored 10 runs in the third inning? And then hung on to beat Milwaukee 10-8?

Since that inning they've left only five men on base and haven't scored a run. So, says Dark, "We're just not hitting."

Rookie Jesus Alou is scheduled to make his debut in right field tonight, having recovered from an ankle injury. Duke Snider, the pinch hitting acquisition, probably will not be in the lineup during this home stand.

"He told me he hadn't been hitting much in spring practice so we'll give him an extra 15 minutes batting practice each day we're home and see what happens," said Dark.

"One little bunt," he worried. "One little bunt beat us."

True enough, the game might still be going on if it hadn't been for that little bunt Simmons laid down after Tim McCarver singled with one out in the third.

Pitcher Bob Hendley fielded the ball but threw over the head of Jim Davenport covering first. McCarver wound up at third and Simmons on second. The first run scored on Julian Javier's single and the second on Dick Groat's sacrifice fly.

Asked if he though McCarver might have scored from second on Javier's single, Dark shook his head and said, "I think Harvey (Kuenn) would have thrown him out."

The Cardinals collected only four hits off Hendley and one off reliever Ron Herbel who worked the ninth inning.

Mays Most Dedicated Player; He Lives, Breathes Baseball

He will never look good in a high hat!

Nor will his card read J. WILLIE MAYS—it's Willie, wire to wire, for the S.F. Giants' star outfielder.

Each year it becomes more and more difficult to predict waht the future holds for the "Say Hey Kid." And that brings us up to date.

What sort of a year can the Giants expect from a player who has been going top speed since 1951?

CONNOLLY

Ask any manager, player or owner and they all say in a chorus — "Willie's great. He'll be the star again in 1964."

To watch Willie in the spring or while he is at ease makes one wonder what keeps up his tremendous enthusiasm for baseball. He lives, breathes and talks the game from morning to night and seldom repeats himself.

Baseball means more to Mays than anybody we've ever met. And that includes the late Rogers Hornsby who, next to Willie, was the most dedicated baseball player we ever met.

LONG BEFORE Willie Mays ever reached the high salary bracket he was a baseball fanatic. His salary, he never mentions. He is his own worst critic on the field, or at the bat. When he strikes out, he'll tell you he "goofed." When he kicks a fly ball, he tells you he's the forst fly catcher in the game. And when he homers or wins a ball game, he won't stand still long eonugh to listen to word of praise.

Willie embarks on the 1964 season vitally interested in how he's going to be able to help his teammates — Jay Alou in rightfield and Willie McCovey in left.

"I'm only as good as the guys around me," explains Willie. "When they look good, I'm good. When they look bad, I'm to blame. I figure I've been playing the outfield long enough to be a good judge of where to play certain hitters and when I tell Jay or Willie McCovey where to play them, and I miss I figure I'm more to blame than they are."

THAT IS the kind of guy who is known as Willie Mays.

For a ball player who could soak up adulation, Willie Mays does everything to escape it. A few weeks ago when I asked him where he hung out at night, he replied "In my room."

And the reasons for Willie sticking close to his room is because his fans won't leave him alone.

"I CAN'T refuse an autograph," says Willie, "and If I'm around where baseball fans are, they naturally use the autograph stunt to get me into conversation. They make me a prisoner without wanting to do it. And I'm stuck for awhile anyhow. But I wouldn't trade my life for any other. It's real fun playing baseball and real fun being around with guys who live and breathe it."

So you wonder why Willie Mays keeps on being a star. I'll tell you. He wouldn't know how to be otherwise. And he's steeled himself to crank up for every pitch, and to run out every hit, and to chase every fly ball.

Reds' Pinson Off To Flying Start

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati's fleet-footed Vada Pinson, who wound up in court last year for failing to speed, may have solved his problem.

Criticized last year for not capitalizing on his speed by bunting for base hits, Pinson has stepped off to an unusually quick April start without laying one down. Instead, he's been laying them up the middle for base hits.

Pinson lashed three singles last night and along with rookie Chico Ruiz, who collected a single, double and triple, provided enough firepower for the Reds to hand the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers their second loss in three games, 5-2.

Pinson, who has been a National League batting title contender since he became a Cincinnati regular in 1959, has stretch—more than Stan Musial, 975; Willie Mays, 954, and Hank Aaron, 914, in their first five years.

Yet he always has been beset by the bunt-more-often critics. He was so incensed by one writer last season that the two tangled in the Reds' dressing room and ultimately finished up in a no-decision court battle with the matter dropped.

Whether to bunt or not still is up to Pinson, but he may be able to solve some of his problems with a solid start. He's 4-for-8 now, quite an improvement over last season when he managed only 10 hits in 60 April at-bats and stiff finished with a .313 average

The Reds' Ruiz-Pinson combine was too much for the Dodgers. Ruiz doubled in the first and scored on a single by Pinson, then trippled in the fifth and rode home on another single by Pinson. In the fifth, Ruiz and Pinson both singled with Deron Johnson's sacrifice fly accounting for the run batted in.

That was more than enough for Jim O'Toole and Joe Nuxhall, who checked the Dodgers on eight hits. O'Toole retired the first 14 batters he faced, finally needed Nuxhall's relief help in the ninth. The loser was Bob Miller.

It's Wilt Vs. Russell Next In Warrior-Celtic Playoff

National Basketball Assn. fans today looked forward to a battle between the game's two best big men, Wilt Chamberlain and Bill Russell, in the NBA's championship playoff finals.

And there were planty of predictions around that Chamberlain and his San Francisco Warriors would take that title away from the mighty Russell-led Boston Celtics.

Chamberlain was most of the show last night as he dumped in 39 points, blocked a dozen shots, and dominated the boards in leading San Francisco past St. Louis, 105-95, in their seventh and final Western Division playoff game at the Cow Palace.

Boston has been taking it easy since disposing of Cincinnati in five games in Eastern Division play. The Warrior-Celtic series starts tomorrow in Boston.

Coach Alex Hannum of the Warriors conceded that the defending champion Boston team is "great and deeper than we are." But he added that while he was not too sure at times that his team could get past St. Louis, he had always felt the Warriors could give the Celtics a better fight than any other team in the league.

GREAT SCORER

He explained that Russell, the league's top defensive ace, can plug up the whole middle of the court against most teams. But against the Warriors, he must devote all his talents just to guarding Wilt, the greatest scorer in the history of the league.

Chamberlain was at his magnificent best in last night's thriller. As Hannum later put it, "Wilt may be 7 feet 1 on the scorecard, but he was 13 feet tall out there against St. Louis."

St. Louis hit well from the outside throughout a wild first quarter, but Chamberlain's fade-aways and Guy Rodgers' drives held the score to 33-32. Chamberlain scored 14 of 21 Warrior points in the second stanza as the Warriors led 53-52 at the half.

St. Louis threatened to break the contest wide open in the third quarter when veterans Bob Pettit, Cliff Hagan and Richie Guerin paced a fast break attack that pushed the Hawks out in front, 77-69.

But the Warriors then rolled up 14 straight points as the crowd of 8,923 roared its approval. Rodgers had 8 points, but it was Chamberlain's blocking of Hawk shots that stopped the St. Louis offense cold during the wild session.

That took the starch out of the Hawks and the team swapped baskets from there on out.

The doughty Rodgers was knocked cold with nine minutes to go when he fell and whacked his head on the floor during a wild scramble under the Hawks basket. But Al Attles fouled out a few minutes later and Rodgers finished up for him.

Guy had 19 points, Tom Meschery 15 and Al Attles 13. Pettit led St. Louis with 24, Guerin had 23 and Hagan 21.

TONIGHT AT COW PALACE

Seals Shoot For Clincher

The defending champion San Francisco Seals once again attempt to latch onto the Lester Patrick Cup tonight in the Cow Palace against the Los Angeles Blades, who are showing interest of their own lately in the coveted cup.

The Seals lead the best of seven series, 3-2, with both coaches claiming psychological superiority in tonight's encounter—a game which could prove to be the finale for the Western Hockey League championship.

A near capacity crowd is expected to watch the hometowners attempt to wrap up their second championship. If they fail, it's back to Los Angeles for a seventh and final game tomorrow night.

Coming off a resounding 8-2 victory in Los Angeles on Wednesday night, Blade Coach Alf Pike saw no interruption in his club's momentum. The explosive Los Angeles club swished five goals past Seal goalie Bobby Perrault in two minutes and 16 seconds Wednesday night, a league record.

Pike was hopeful the smug Seals still hadn't recovered from that bombastic barrage.

San Francisco Seal general manager Bud Poile felt that the Los Angeles drubbing was just what his club needed to shake it from its complacency. "We got the balloons out of our heads and we are back down to earth now," said Poile.

Seals player coach Nick Mickoski said his boys were in good shape mentally but that physically, there were several aches and pains, none of them serious.

San Francisco ace Charlie Burns, hobbled by an injured ligament in his left knee which kept him sidelined for most of the last two games, is expected to see considerable action.

ACE SUSPENDED

Los Angeles will be skating without the services of defenseman Frank Arnett, who was fined $300 yesterday and placed on an indefinite suspension for his demonstrative outbreak Wednesday night against referee Bill Papp.

Arnett was thumbed out in the first period for charging into Papp after the Los Angeles bad boy disputed the referee's penalty call. It took most of Arnett's teammates to cajole him from further attacking Papp.

Sailors Off To The Races; Yachts Slate Busy Weekend

By ALFRED MATSON

Despite the fact that the yachting season does not officially open until next weekend, the racing factions are jumping the gun tomorrow and Sunday with the sailors from the wee El Toros to the big, deep water vessels, competing in their respective classes and divisions.

The blue water foray is a two-way event for all yachts of Crusing Club measurement rating and is under the auspices of the Sausalito Yacht Club. It is the initial event of a program of eight races, sponsored by the Cruising Club Divisions Assn., and to the ultimate winner will go the Danforth Perpetual Memorial Trophy. Course of the race, for this weekend, is from San Francisco to Drake's Bay. The outward bound leg will start tomorrow at 10 a.m. off Harding Rock and finish off the Pt. Reyes buoy, the return race will start at 10:30 a.m. and finish at the St. Francis Y. C.

Each leg will be a separate race and the cumulative points will be on the inverse ratio. According to race chairman Bruce Easom, 52 entries have been received and, with rail down breezes anticipated, some torrid racing can be anticipated.

Just five minutes after this race gets started, the Midget Ocean Racing Club fleet will engage in a similar battle with the same starting line, same finish and follow through on Sunday with their start at 10:35 a.m. And the same Sausalito Y. C. race committee will work this race, as well, what a nice bunch of sailors.

The Small Boat Racing Assn. also is staging a two-day regatta this weekend with all four divisions engaging in separate combats on the waters of Lake Merced. Divisions 2 and 3 will race tomorrow and 1 and 4 on Sunday; all morning starts will be at 10:30 o'clock.

Another attraction, on Sunday, will be the team challenge race, an annual event, between the San Francisco and Corinthian yacht clubs. Each club has three boats and crews and yachts of the Rhodes 19 class are used. The start will be at 11 a.m. at Knox buoy. Out to avenge last year's defeat, the Corinthians have three hot skippers, namely, Joe Madrigali, Bill Moore and Grant Wilson. In defense, the San Franciscans have come up with three equally-knowledgeable tillermasters—Tom Martin, Hap McGill and Roy Ashley.

Jenkins joins Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf, director of 49er playing personnel, his administrative assistant, Roy Gilbert, and full-time scout Bob Snedden.

Giardello In Non-Title TV Bout Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joey Giardello, who hasn't fought since winning a decision over Dick Tiger for the middleweight championship last Dec. 7, has put a premium on strength for his 10-round non-title fight against Juan Rocky Rivero here tonight.

Giardello, 33, expected to weigh in today at 164 pounds, one pound under the limit in the overweight match, Rivero, the Argentine middleweight champ, is expected to weigh about the same for the fight to be televised by ABC starting at 10 o'clock, PST.

The 26-year-old South American has knocked out 36 opponents en route to a 41-10-1 record. Rivero was stopped in the seventh round by Florentino Fernandez in New York last Dec. 13.

Giardello, with a 101-22 mark, relies mainly on speed, a good left hook and jab.

27-Year-Old Marin Track Mark Broken

A 27-year-old College of Marin track record finally was broken yesterday as a four-man Marin relay team raced one mile in 3 minutes, 30-5 seconds in a triangular Golden Valley Conference meet at Santa Rosa.

The quartet of Jim Duff, Bill Ranney, Rich Brown and Bill Gillingham broke by 1.2 seconds the former record of 3:-31.7 which had remained unsurpassed in the Kentfield college's record books since 1937.

Marin as a team placed second yesterday with 60 points behind Santa Rosa Junior College's 69. Napa was third with 37.

A bulk of Marin's 60 points was piled up on first places, including a "double" by Bill Gillingham in addition to his anchor leg on the record-smashing relay team. Gillingham won the 440 yard run in 50.4 seconds and the 220 in 23 flat.

Don Stone also scored a double, winning the triple jump at 43 feet, 5 inches and the broad jump at 21-8¼.

Other Marin firsts were: Duff, 100-yard dash, 10.6; Rich Congdon, shot, 43 feet, 10¼ inches; Warren Nickel, discus, 118-11½.

Placing second for the Tars were Rich Brown (880), Duff (220), Paul Brady (shot) and Darryl Bonds (discus). Thirds were garnered by Bruce Ketron (mile and two-mile), Dennis Nickel (shot) and the 440 relay team while Bill Ranney in the mile, Bob Wedemuller in the 100 and Carl Jensen in the two-mile came up with four places.

HIGH SCHOOL GOLF

Marin Athletic League high school golfers saw plenty of action yesterday, but little was settled as Marin Catholic tied Drake 3-3, while Tamalpais and San Rafael also settled on identical scores, 3-3.

The FISHIN' FOOL

Much Response From Anglers Who Want Answers On Tying Leaders

STEVENS

It's slightly amazing the number of people who have lost fish account of incorrectly tied leaders. At any rate, a surprising number have sent in asking for the DuPont graphs on the subject. I am now well into the second hundred I had run off. It's okay; got lots more on hand, so send me a self addressed and STAMPED envelope and I'll send one along. Lots of laudatory comments in the requests, and one good-natured gripe.

Gordon Hughes of San Anselmo wrote: "How come no mention of the Schenley stiper I caught March 14, weighing 23 pounds, eight ounces, out of Joe's Santa Venetia spot. Skipper Ed Majesky netted the 42-inch fish with a 24-inch net —quite a trick, eh?"

SO, THERE you are, Gordon. Incidentally it might be a wise move on Gordon's part to again draft Ed for a trip out of Joe's Launching. Go to the shell banks in about 10 feet of water, early in the morning, and fish with a filleted sardine with reported that Salvadore Salvadore took his limit in one hours' time on Wednesday morning. Fish ran from 8 to 12 pounds (Third trip for Salvalore with a limit each trip.)

Grace Quan reported good fishing out of her place at China Camp. Best off the Pump House. Hit an average of two bass per rod on Tuesday with fish to 10½ pounds.

MOST ACTION the past 48 hours has been on the Marin side of the San Pablo Bay. Some of the party boats as well as skiffs from the Contra Costa side have been working that Costa side. I contacted Davis Campbell at the Golden Hinde and was informed that the fishing in that area has been very definitely poor. Could be only a lull, though.

Frank Joseph of Rodeo expects some active trolling in the early and late hours on the Contra Costa side of the Bay, and I concur with his prediction. Some of you give it a whirl, eh?

Tell the guy who claims salmon trolling is n.g. that he's balmy. At least the Skipper of the Sea Horse thinks so. He left the Berkeley Harbor Tuesday morning, trolling south of the Light Ship and came to port by 11 a.m. with nine limits of salmon. Hardly n.g., I'd say!

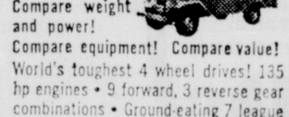

THAT REPORT from Lee Anderson's in Oakland was followed by the news that the boat, "Troller," drift fished off Treasure Island on Tuesday and took 12 stripers to 14 pounds. Also the few anglers who had been working the deep water between the Brothers with sardines, or lures, have taken some hefty bass.

Berryessa yielded limits of black bass to 4¾ pounds to Joseph Clark in the Spanish Flat sector, as happened to Clark's buddy, Thomas Gutchen. Joe Navarro of Sportsmen's Center in Castro Valley made the above report as well as mentioning George Payne and Eva Stockman landing four stripers from 4½ to 16½ pounds in the Big Break, and Jerry Adams with wife, Mary, took four bass to 4 pounds near Rio Vista Bridge. Joe assured me there is plenty of fresh sardines in town at present, and that's good news.

AUDREY Payne of San Lorenzo Bait called to report the saga of the fish that didn't get away. Jim Hesson with pal, Bob Brown, hooked a black bass from shore at Berryessa on a jetterbug. Proved to be a lunker, almost got away while Jim was landing it. Bob Brown jumped into the water and wrestled the seven pound, two ounce beauty to a victory.

So—ther's lots of good bait around, lots of salmon, stripers, black bass and catfish just waiting for their share. What's keeping you at home these warm spring days? Chow!

Marin Bowl Teams Win Top Spots

Marin County bowlers made their presence known in the Brunswick Traveling League this year, winning the first two places and tying for the third spot.

The traveling league is comprised of teams all over the Bay area. Nave Lanes Team No. 2, composed of Audrey Ash, Jean Sparks, Ed Brice, John Coffey and Bill Nave, took first place, while one-half game behind in second place was the Greenbrae Lanes No. 1 team of Phil Wallace, Bob Crowhurst, Millie Lax, Lu Kralka and Dottie Rosso.

In a tie for third place, one and one-half games behind the Nave team, was Greenbrae No. 2, made up of Merna McIntosh, Barbara Molseed, Roberta Thorsen, George Larsen and Mac Glover.

First and second place trophies will be presented by Brunswick officials at a banquet next Wednesday at Westlake Bowl in Daly City.

Fashion Show At Rod-Gun Dinner

A fashion show will supplement the Marin Rod and Gun Club's monthly dinner Saturday evening at the San Quentin Clubhouse.

The event is sponsored by the club's boating committee under the direction of chairman Ken Watts, and will get under way at 7 o'clock. There will be a social hour beginning at 6.

Following the meal, fashion models will show off the latest in ladies' lingerie and lounge wear.

IN SAN RAFAEL

Hole-In-One Contest To Benefit Youth Baseball

A "Hole-in-One" contest, benefitting the San Rafael Youth Baseball League, will be held at Albert Field on April 24, 25 and 26.

The sponsors of the baseball league have hit upon this golfing competition as a way to raise the $4,000 they need to put about 180 boys between the ages of 13 and 17 in flannels this summer to play in the Junior and Senior leagues of the circuit. In previous years, revenue has come from gifts, ads, raffles, etc., and this year, the sponsors hope that the element of chance will attract enough entrants at $1 for three balls to raise the needed funds.

The contest offers a $250 prize for anyone who achieves a hole-in-one, and, if no aces are shot, $100 in golf equipment will be given to the player who puts his ball closest to the pin. In addition to these prizes, there will be special awards each hour and at the end of each day.

Besides the cash attraction to individual golfers, the league's contest offers opportunity for clubs and organizations to gain funds for their treasuries. Each group may reserve one of the three tees operating; their members will all tee off, and measure the distance, in inches, of their ball to the pin. The members would then pay one penny per inch for their shots, and the money received would go into the club treasury. If they desire, the member with his shot closest to the hole may collect all the pennies.

Clubs and organizations may reserve a tee by contacting the San Rafael Baseball League, Box 1395, San Rafael, and specifying the hour during which they would like to use the tee. Deadline for reservations is 5 p.m., Saturday, April 18. The hours of the contest will be 6 p.m. to 10 p.m., Friday, April 24 and 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., April 25 and 26.

Brundage To Inspect Olympic Facilities

TOKYO (AP) — Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, has been invited to visit Japan to inspect preparations for the 1964 Tokyo Olympics.

Marin Swim Meet Starts Tomorrow

More than 275 youngsters will be out for victories tomorrow morning when the two-day Marin Swimming Championships start at the new Bon Air Recreation Center pool in Greenbrae.

The Class A meet, drawing the finest swimmers between 8 and 17 in California and Nevada, will start at 9 a.m. tomorrow and run throughout the day. Then on Sunday, the meet will continue for another full day, this time starting at 9:30 a.m.

The swimming show is being sponsored jointly by Schultz Enterprises, the Marin Pirates Swim Club and the Independent-Journal. All proceeds of the meet will go to the Marin Pirates.

There will be 60 events divided between boys and girls age groups of 8 and under, 9 and 10, 11 and 12, 13 and 14, and 15 through 17. There will be 30 events staged tomorrow and 30 more on Sunday.

The meet is being sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU), and many Pacific Assn. of the AU records will be in jeopardy. Some 27 different swim clubs throughout California and Nevada will be sending representatives into battle. From Marin will be the Marin Pirates, Tamalpais Swim Club, Ann Curtis Swim Club, and the San Rafael Swim Club.

The recreation center pool, located at 630 South Eliseo Drive in Greenbrae, is 25 meters long, regulation Olympic size. Because of the fine facilities at the pool, meet director George Shistar estimates some Pacific Assn. and even national records may be shattered.

All events will be run in heats, with winners determined on a time basis. Trophies will go for first place winners, medals for second and third, and ribbons for fourth through six-the place finishers. All entrants will receive participant's certificates from the I-J.

The oldest record for the Pacific Assn. that will be sought is the girls 15-17 mark in the 400-meter freestyle relay. That mark was set in 1956 by the Santa Clara Swim Club, 5:49.6.

Price of tickets for the meet will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. A snack bar will be available both days, and each day's events will be broken up by a lunch break of about an hour. Programs will be sold at the meet, price 25 cents.

Tomorrow's activities will start with a special event, a 25-meter freestyle race for boys and girls 8 and under. On Sunday, the day's program will start with more races for the 8 and under swimmers, 50-meter freestyles for both boys and girls.

Boxing Remains At Nevada U.

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—The University of Nevada student body, voting against an athletic board recommendation, has decided to continue its intercollegiate boxing program.

The resounding endorsement, a margin of better than 10-to-one, was 885 to 87. The vote was influenced by a front page editorial in the campus newspaper by the co-ed editor calling for retention of boxing.

The athletic board recommended dropping the sport by a 3-2 vote two weeks ago. University president Charles Armstrong asked for the student vote and indicated the board or regents would go along with the student body decision.

Atmosphere Of Venus Might Be Like Earth

By GENE BYLINSKY
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—New measurements indicate the cloud-shrouded planet Venus has as much water vapor high in its atmosphere as does the earth.

This discovery by balloon-lifted instruments could mean that Venus is not the dismal, oven-hot world it was conjectured to be in the wake of the Mariner 2 flyby in December, 1962.

Rather, the planet's atmosphere may be much more like that of earth's. And this undoubtedly will re-open speculation that life of some sort may exist there.

Large amounts of water in the atmosphere of Venus were detected Feb. 21 on a daylight flight over New Mexico. The Air Force office of aerospace research "project ballast" balloon carried a 16-inch telescope and other instruments to 87,500 feet to obtain the readings.

Many scientists have been convinced, on the basis of previous observations, that high temperatures on the surface of the planet rule out the presence of water, although observers in a U. S. manned balloon flight thought they detected small amounts of water vapor in 1959.

Now, Dr. John Strong, a Johns Hopkins University scientist who directs Project Ballast for the Air Force, says the Venusian clouds "are just like ours."

Dr. Strong wouldn't speculate on th chances of life on Venus. I think the case for high temperature on the surface of Venus is very good," he said. "But I also think that the Mariner 2 temperature measurement is an interpretation that isn't conclusive. We need more facts and less interpretation."

The scientist said there's still a possibility that a dense layer of electrons surrounds Venus near the planet's surface. This layer could have given Mariner scientists misleading temperature readings; the surface may be cool instead of the scorching 800 degrees fahrenheit reported by Mariner scientists.

After the Mariner 2 flyby of Venus, however, Mariner scientists said detection of the so-called "limb darkening" excludes the possibility of such an electrified layer. Detecting electronic "limb darkening" is somewhat similar to looking at the earth from thousands of miles in space when the earth is covered by a bright, glowing mist. The mist would be more prominent at the edges of the earth than at its center.

The flight of Mariner 2 failed to answer many questions about Venus. The craft's instruments got only three scans of the planet's surface instead of the planned 13. This severely limited the amount of data gathered.

Although Mariner scientists hoped to measure amounts of water vapor in the planet's atmosphere, they never issued a report on it. At a conference in Washington last year, Dr. L. D. Kaplan, a Mariner scientist from the jet propulsion laboratory in Pasadena, argued that "there's practically no water on Venus.

Dr. Thomas Gold, a prominent Cornell University astrophysicist, remarked, however: "The idea that Venus is free of water is hard to swallow."

The first positive indication that there is water in the clouds of Venus now injects a new mystery into the nature of Venus.

Dr. Strong said in an interview that in the next ballast balloon flight in October he will seek to determine whether the brilliant clouds of Venus are made of ice crystals, water droplets, or "oil smoke."

Presence of high concentrations of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere of Venus makes it unlikely that the planet's atmosphere is exactly like that of Earth, Dr. Strong added. But it could be similar.

Redwood High Might Get Sister School In Mexico

Redwood High School, participant in three international student exchange programs, may have another sister school, according to recent visitor to the school, Mrs. Robert Sein, head of the Mexican School Affiliation program.

Plans for another exchange program, besides that already established with a German school, are being spearheaded by Mrs. Sein. She recently came to Marin to discuss developments and talked to students about Mexico and Mexican education.

Redwood has applied for another foreign counterpart with which to exchange ideas and students. As Mrs. Sein puts it, "The two school systems are entirely different and the tempo of life is much slower and relaxed in Mexico. You must remember that the key word there is manana."

In her conference with journalism students, Mrs. Sein, wife of a United Nations interpreter, said:

"Today, we are seeing the manifestation of the great thirst for education in Mexico—the first generation of Mexican children who are really able to receive an elementary education. Before this program, many potential students had to be turned away."

In contrast to the United States' public school system, the Mexican system is divided into four parts: six years of elementary school, three of secondary, two of preparatory, and finally study at the university.

Two other differences between Mexican and United States schools were also pointed out to Redwood students: teachers there receive very small salaries, making it necessary for them to hold down two or three jobs at a time; also, because of the poverty there, the government uses the school system to improve children's diets.

Junior Prom

The theme of a carousel will be carried out at Redwood High School's junior prom tomorrow, with the band playing in the middle of the dance floor under brightly colored parachutes made to resemble a merry-go-round. The band, the Sharps, will play from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the high school gymnasium.

Span Session Set

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District's committee studying a second crossing between San Francisco and Marin County will meet at 10:30 a.m. next Tuesday in the district's administration building at the bridge toll plaza.

Assisting the decorations chairman will be Mrs. Richard Evans and Mrs. Robert Byrnes.

Today is Friday, April 17, the 108th day of 1964 with 258 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1521, the Diet of Worms excommunicated Martin Luther from the Holy Roman Church after the former monk refused to admit to charges of heresy.

In 1870, Benjamin Franklin died at the age of 84.

In 1941, Yugoslavia capitulated to Germany.

In 1962, Capt. Joseph Kauffman of the U.S. Air Force was found guilty by a court martial of having passed military secrets to East German Communists.

A thought for the day — Benjamin Franklin said: "Human felicity is produced not so much by great pieces of good fortune that seldom appear, as by little advantages that occur every day."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Lightface type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Rescue Your Partner When He Flounders In Bridge Game

Declarer can plan the play of both hands because he knows what he has to work with.

The defenders must often guess, and their planning is therefore uncoordinated.

Opening lead — ♠ 10

When this hand was played some months ago in a New York club, West opened the ten of spades.

WINS IN DUMMY

Declarer won in dummy with the queen, cashed the king of hearts, and led another heart, finessing the ten to West's queen.

West shifted to the nine of diamonds as a desperation measure since the other suits looked pretty hopeless.

East had to play the four of diamonds on dummy's queen in the hope that his partner could win a club trick in time to lead another diamond. Then, of course, East would be able to take three diamond tricks.

GRAVE DANGER

The trouble was that the four of diamonds looked like a discouraging signal. West had no way of knowing that his partner was ready to take three diamond tricks.

The defense was in grave danger. If South led a club promptly, West would play low in the hope that South would lose a finesse to East's queen. From West's point of view, the defense needed two club tricks to defeat the contract.

South would make no such mistake. The diamond situation might be obscure to West but it was quite clear to South. His only chance was to put up dummy's king of clubs; and this would bring in his contract.

MAKES MISTAKE

Before leading the club to dummy, however, South made the mistake of cashing his last heart. This gave East the chance to make a discard. What could he throw to rescue his partner from the wrong defense?

East found the answer by discarding the queen of clubs! This forced West to take the first club trick since it was impossible for South to guess wrong in clubs.

West then led his other diamond, and the contract was defeated.

QUESTION

What do you say?

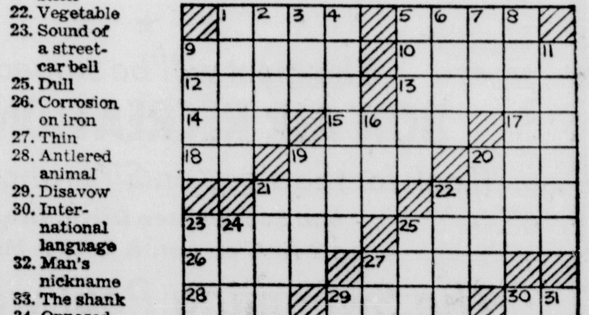

Answer: Bid one club.

You have 11 points in high cards and should count at least 3 points for the distribution. Don't consider a shutout bid when you have two aces and the full requirements for an opening bid.

6 Brand New Homes in NEW ENGLAND MAPLE GROVE

We have 4 brand new homes, built by Harlan Floyd and Assoc., which are nestled in a beautiful maple grove.

For complete privacy, they are located on their own private street, surrounded by lush foliage and a year-'round live creek. Each house has its own serene sylvan setting. The houses have a long, low silhouette of natural wood, contrasting to the vibrant green setting. CATHEDRAL CEILINGS with OPEN BEAMS, dark-stained random plank floors accentuate the chalk-white walls and dramatize the floor-to-ceiling brick fireplace. The bath has imported Byzantine tile, and the dressing room has a huge mirror "theatrical lighting." The two bedrooms are in keeping with the rest of the house. Also an electric kitchen; dining area; fully insulated; generous use of glass and skylights.

AMONG THE REDWOODS

We have two more similar homes located in a true Muir Woods location. From your living room survey the "forest Primeval", listen to the bird song and watch the deer watching you. Only $23,950.

DIRECTIONS: Drive out Sir Francis Drake Blvd. to the town of Woodacre, follow the red & white arrows up Railroad Ave. to Carson Ave., turn right. Go approx. ¾ of a block to Oak Grove Ave., turn left. Follow arrows to the end of Oak Grove. You have ARRIVED!

Spice Island Now Smells Of Fear

By HENRY REUTER
Worldwide Press Service

NAIROBI — The island of Zanzibar, communism's new springboard to the African mainland territories of Tanganyika and Kenya, is now an island of fear.

This correspondent slipped into the former quaint little spice island through the Moorish portals of Zanzibar airport in the last week of March. And I found myself in an atmosphere which can only be compared with that of occupied Europe during World War II.

(I was possibly the last journalist to be allowed in, it now being an offense punishable by 20 years imprisonment to write anything or do anything regarding Zanzibar which is considered by the revolutionary council to be contrary to the interests of the state.)

Three months ago the indolent Zanzibaris were still living largely on coconuts which dropped into their laps and off clove crops which gave the owner the tiresome task of picking them twice a year.

Now, after the bloody revolution launched by John Okello, an ex-member of the terrorist Mau Mau, who came from the sea with 200 armed thugs, life in Zanzibar is very changed.

Okello, who was hired by Zanzibar's Afro-Shirazi leaders to keep the populace cowed while they overthrew the ruling, predominantly Arab government, has been paid off and deported to the mainland by the revolutionary council under President Abeid Karume.

But before Okello had finished his job for the Afro-Shirazis — men of mixed African-Persian blood, who form the largest population group — some 6,000 people were killed, not to mention the beatings and lootings which continued long after the swiftly achieved coup.

Now the Communists have moved in. There are East German, Red Chinese and Russian embassies. And there is a nucleus of local Communists who have seized power within the revolutionary council.

The council has announced that Zanzibar has become a socialist state. To emphasize this a Russian freighter, the Faizabad, recently docked at Zanzibar with a load of 20 trucks—which were unloaded openly by day—and arms and ammunition, which were unloaded secretly by night.

The Zanzibaris are frightened. They look over their shoulders before speaking to visitors. They take without complaint insults and worse from Africans and dark-skinned Arabs. And they live in constant fear of the knock on the door and transportation to a detention camp.

The 30-man revolutionary council has set up a ring of detention camps around Zanzibar Town, where more than 2,000 men, women and children, suspected to have Arab or anti-Communist sympathies, are kept. Overworked British Red Cross officials feed them as well as they can.

Nearly every Arab landholder on the island has been ordered out of his home and off his land by armed Africans since the council passed laws nationalizing all land and confiscating all property which the president points his finger at.

The council reserves the right to try whomsoever it wishes and to impose heavy punishments, often accompanied by severe floggings.

Two hundred Britons remaining on the island have been given until the end of April to get out.

Two moderate ministers in the Zanzibar government — education minister Sheikh Othman Shariff and finance minister Hasnu Makame — have been replaced by Communists and posted respectively as high commissioner in London and ambassador in the United States.

Oddly, the mainland governments of Tanganyika, Kenya and Uganda show little apparent interest in Zanzibar. None of them maintains an embassy there. But it is known that the new rulers of Zanzibar have links, through the Communist hierarchy, with important people in Nairobi and Dar es Salaam.

Dominant among the Communist missions on the island is East Germany. Its influence is felt everywhere.

For anti-Communist Zanzibaris—and they are in the majority—the future is very bleak. Thousands of Arabs have already fled to Muscat and Oman, the homelands of their forefathers. Other thousands of Arabs and Indians have been trying to make new lives on the African mainland.

The question many East Africans are asking is: How long will it be before the Communists, who have found violent methods so effective on Zanzibar, will try to apply them on the African mainland?

Tuberculosis Vaccine Hunt Is Gaining

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Scientists have fully immunized mice against tuberculosis, foreshadowing possible development of an effective human vaccine against this scourge.

If it works in monkeys and later in humans, doctors could in the not too distant future have a major weapon to fight the disease.

Tuberculosis is still a major U.S. public health problem, despite the fact that drug therapy has dropped it off the list of the first 10 killer diseases. There are about 50,000 new cases each year and some 10,000 victims die. The nation's TB medical bill is about 750 million dollars a year, not counting payroll losses.

Doctors now have a vaccine-like protector called BCG. It is made from a strain of TB type germs that do not actually cause the disease. Disease-fighters have given millions of doses in epidemicprone countries like India. But many U.S. experts doubt its efficiency for individual Americans exposed to isolated infection.

For years, scientists have tried to squeeze the stuff from virulant tuberculosis germs that would in turn stimulate the human body into producing antibodies against a subsequent infection.

Attempts to make a real TB vaccine have consistently failed. A waxy sheath around the germs melts into a messy, buttery material whenever they try the important squeeze play.

Now, Dr. Carl L. Larson of Montana State University and Dr. Edgar Ribi of the Federal Rocky Mountain Laboratory have succeeded in separating the cell wall from the rest of the micro-organism. In initial tests, they used the BCG strain of germs, placing them under terrific pressure. When the pressure is suddenly released, the germs pop their cell walls like a squeezed grape. A coolant is used to hold the pure cells walls intact.

Larson and Ribi immunized mice with the new vaccine mixed in mineral oil. Vaccines mixed in a water solution for some reason were totally ineffective. The cell-wall vaccine protected the rodents from TB as well as BCG or better they reported to a meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology in Chicago.

Next, it may be possible to concoct an even more potent vaccine using the immunity-stimulating cell walls of the real TB culprit. Ribi recently told another scientific session he hopes to test the vaccine on monkeys and then on human volunteers.

Momentarily, a budget shortage is slowing plans to undertake costly monkey studies, Ribi says.

There is another stumbling block in the way of the new vaccine: It confuses the results of the "patch test" for tuberculosis. Doctors checking for disease among those vaccinated can't tell whether it is the protecting agent or the TB betraying its presence. Until they can figure out a way to unsmudge this disease fingerprint vaccine development will be imperfect.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Some Epileptics Develop Equivalents Such As Headaches, Overactivity

VAN DELLEN

A teen-aged girl was referred to the Mayo clinic because of an odd condition. Frequently, as she opened the front door of her home to go to school, she dropped her books. The relationship between bright lights and the response of her arms made the physicians think of a peculiar form of epilepsy. They wanted an electroencephalogram to see what the brain waves had to offer.

The EEG recording showed the girl to be highly sensitive to light. When illumination was flashed into her eyes during the test, the brain waves were most active from the areas where arm movements initiated. Light brought on an epileptic seizure characterized by sudden relaxation of the arms. The condition was controled by wearing dark glasses.

THE MAJORITY of epileptics have convulsions (grand mal) or blackouts (petit mal). Others develop what are known as epileptic equivalents. These manifestations vary: Migraine headaches may occur instead of convulsions, whereas others go through episodes of overactivity or uncooperativeness.

Some epileptics have seizures only at night and the equivalent in a child might be occasional bedwetting; months or years later, actual convulsions may occur. Mental dullness may be an epileptic equivalent and treatment for epilepsy may be followed by improvement in learning ability.

AN ELECTROENCEPHALOGRAPHIC recording is suggested for all children who exhibit bizarre disturbances in behavior that cannot be explained by illness or emotional upsets. In addition to those mentioned, the list includes severe temper tantrums, dream-like states, and poor school adjustment. Fainting, crying, and shaking spells may be on this basis and the same can be said of the habit of running away from home.

Electroencephalography is a simple and painless procedure. Small metal disks are attached to the scalp. The electric activity of various areas of the scalp is recorded for a period of half an hour to an hour. The patient is asked to be calm and cooperative while he does simple calculations. The reactions to a flashing light are determined, to complete the test.

Biologists Seeking Key To Man's Growth

By WIL LEPKOWSKI
Advance News Service

CHICAGO—Biologists today are developing a precise chemical picture of how simple living things like bacteria evolved over millions of years into that complex creature—man.

They already are demonstrating that it will soon be possible to show how closely man is related to monkeys, horses, tuna fish, frogs and yeast cells in a chemical sense. This should lead to an understanding of life with important benefits.

It can become the basis for knowing exactly what should be done about the drastic chemical changes taking place in the earth's environment—pollution of air and water—to further mankind's health and survival.

How the study of evolution is opening up a new understanding of life was underlined at the 48th meeting of the Federation of the American Society for Experimental Biology in a series of special reports.

On the evolutionary scale, E. T. Bolton of the Carnegie Institution, Washington, D. C., said, man is 20 per cent mouse. Man is also 60 per cent monkey and about 10 per cent salmon, he added.

Bolton and his fellow researchers came up with their figures by matching in test tubes the genes from various animals. For example, they took some human genetic material (known chemically as DNA) fixed in jelly-like sieves, and poured up monkey DNA through the sieve. DNA, scientists now know, carries hereditary traits.

About 60 per cent of the monkey DNA stuck to the human DNA, leading Bolton to the conclusion that 60 per cent of all the genes in monkeys and humans are identical. Bolton said it should eventually be possible to "quantify" all of nature in this way. This would give science far more precision in figuring out how animals and plants relate to each other..

Dr. Robert L. Hill of Duke University compared hemoglobin of various animals. Hemoglobin is the red blood protien that carries oxygen around the body. Being a protein, hemoglobin is a long, complicated molecule, roughly like a sub-microscopic chain with 20 different types of links.

The links are arranged in various ways from animal to animal. The more closely hemoglobin is between two animals, the more closely they are related. Hill showed, for example, that the baboon seems to be closer to man than the squirrel monkey on the basis of hemo-

Other researchers compared proteins known as enzymes. Each living thing, whether a single cell or a complete animal, have thousands of separate enzymes working for it, pushing chemical reactions to completion, literally directing the flow of life. Like Hemoglobin in genes, enzymes differ. And the way they differ reflects the evolutionary status of the organisms.

The important point driven home from the enzyme studies was shape. Enzymes are capable of all kinds of shapes. Most work for the organism. Some are just there.

But do these "superfluous" enzymes eventually become important sometime in life? Are there certain situations in which they are called into play? This is what biochemists are asking.

The answers could give solid information on how some animals and plants can survive certain environmental changes, while others become extinct.

The long-range goal is to understand how the environment affects bilogical systems. That is, how Darwin's theory of natural selection actually operates. By dealing with the most important elements of life—genes, enzymes and protein—scientists are on the way to finding out. Considering the drastic changes taking place in the environment today, the results could be crucial to mankind's survival.

Dr. Paul Handler of Duke University, called the series of reports "historic." It was the first time an entire session on the chemistry of evolution was held as part of a major scientific meeting.

Sonoma Leader Denounces Stand On Bodega Plant

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Sonoma County supervisor yesterday told San Francisco to stay out of the controversy over putting a nuclear power plant on Bodega Head.

Supervisor E. J. Guidotti, a strong advocate of the atomic installation, appeared before the San Francisco Board of Supervisors committee on county, state and national affairs to present a Sonoma County resolution condemning San Francisco for meddling in the affairs of another county.

San Francisco Supervisor Leo McCarthy rejected Guidotti's objections, saying that anything that might constitute a threat to the people of San Francisco, such as a nuclear plant split open by an earthquake, is a proper subject for San Francisco government to examine and take a stand on.

The San Francisco position was supported by Marin County Supervisor Peter Behr, who emphasized that he did not speak for the board.

Cape Columbia is on the tip of Ellesmere Island in the northernmost part of Canada's Northwest Territories.

MARIN FILM FARE

Dr. Kildare Stars In First Movie Role

By LES DARD

Another weekend ahead, and here's the roundup of Marin County movies, current and coming.

RAFAEL THEATER

Television's Dr. Kildare now playing in his first starring film role, in "Twilight of Honor."

Richard Chamberlain plays an inexperienced lawyer assigned to the seemingly impossible defense of a hitchhiker who has killed a leading citizen of a New Mexico town.

The dead man is revered as a beloved benefactor. The confessed killer—Nick Adams—is an ignorant, unstable drifter.

Chamberlain is surprisingly convincing, although he might have hoped for a more wholesome introductory role. The remainder of the able cast includes Claude Rains, James Gregory, Joan Blackman and Joey (it's a girl) Heatherton as the hitchhiker's wife.

Co-featured is a farce called "Sunday in New York," with Jane Fonda, Rod Taylor, Cliff Robertson and Jo Morrow.

NOVATO THEATER

Family fare comes in Sunday in a double bill:

In "A Tiger Walks," Walt Disney film, a carnival tiger escapes into a small town after killing his sadistic trainer. Previously, the animal had touched the heart of Pamela Franklin, who plays the daughter of the town sheriff, Brian Keith.

The sheriff gives up his re-election campaign to lead the capture party. Before the sheriff and Sabu, a kindly trainer, can snare the beast a reporter turns the hunt into a full scale drama with National Guard, television and even help from the governor.

Co-featured is "Lad, A Dog," sentimental tale about a prize dog.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Disney doubles up here with "A Tiger Walks"—described above—sharing the bill with the re-running "Big Red."

The unbeatable duo of a boy and a dog are teamed in "Big Red," with orphan boy Giles Payant hired by crusty Canadian dog-breeder Walter Pidgeon to work in the kennels on his estate in the wilds.

Pidgeon, embittered by loss of his son in the war, regains his humanity and warmth through the antics of the orphan boy.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"The Pink Panther," is now showing in San Anselmo. The film is a slapstick spectacular starring Peter Sellers, David Niven, Claudia Cardinale and Robert Wagner.

Niven plays a gentleman jewel thief. Action revolves around his efforts to heist a fabulous gem owned by an equally fabulous Moslem princess—Miss Cardinale—and the bumbling efforts by police of several countries to head off the robbery.

Sellers steals the show as a gumshoe with two left feet.

MOTOR MOVIES

"A New Kind of Love," shows tonight and tomorrow.

Paul Newman plays a wise-acre columnist sent to Paris. Joanne Woodward is a dress designer in Paris for the fashion showings.

Thelma Ritter, George Tobias and even Maurice Chevalier singing a medley of his old favorites add some good moments.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Jean Genet's satire on sin, "The Balcony," makes a shocking, disturbing film. It stars Shelley Winters, Peter Falk, Lee Grant and Ruby Dee. Its setting is a brothel. Outside, a revolution rages. Inside, brothel clients come to act out their pretensions—assisted by ladies of the establishment.

Co-featured is the hilarious Peter Sellers farce, "Wrong Arm of the Law."

101 DRIVE-IN

"Kings of the Sun" is a spectacular closeup of the Mayan civilization 1,000 years ago in Central America.

George Chakiris stars as a young Mayan king driven out by invaders. He leads his people in forming a new city-state in what is now Texas. There, the Indians threaten.

Yul Brynner plays an Indian chief who eventually opens the door to cooperation with the Mayans. Shirley Anne Field plays a Mayan maiden attracted to both men.

"Stolen Hours," the sentimental story of a woman dying of a brain tumor. Susan Hayward stars.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Held over again—and it could be for a long while—is "Dr. Strangelove," a satirical depiction of the accidental end of the world, nuclear-bomb style.

Peter Sellers stars in three roles. First he plays the aide to the demented general who sends a fleet of bombers against the Russians. Then he plays the U.S. president, trying in vain to bring them back before they doom the world. Third he's Dr. Strangelove, the not very ex-Nazi scientist.

George C. Scott and Sterling Hayden, Belvedere actor-author, share top billing.

LARK THEATER

"Hud," which captured three Oscars last Monday night, is now showing.

Patricia Neal earned the Best Actress award and Melvyn Douglas was named Best Supporting Actor. The third Oscar was for cinematography.

Paul Newman, in the title role, was a leading nominee for Best Actor.

The film is a contemporary Western. It depicts a bitter moral conflict between a father who is all good and a son who is pretty much bad. Newman the son, Douglas the aged father.

Co-featured is "Love With the Proper Stranger," starring Natalie Wood and Steve McQueen.

Signups Set For Guitar Classes

Registration for San Rafael Recreation Department classes for beginning and intermediate guitarists will be held next Wednesday at the community center, 37 Union Street.

Classes will meet on Wednesday from 6:45 to 7:30 p.m. for beginners and from 7:30 to 8:15 p.m. for intermediate students. Instructor for the six-week session is Douglas Karr.

College Faculty Group Elects

Robert Essig of 405 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, has been elected president of the College of Marin's academic senate. He is a political science instructor at the college.

Other officers are business instructor William Collins, vice president, and chemistry instructor Ernest L. Braun, secretary.

The 15-member senate is composed of 13 instructors, a counselor and a librarian. The purpose of the recently formed senate is to form policies and procedures for the college by faculty members.

Marin MAGAZINE

Bright reading for the whole week

Featured this Saturday:

Beautiful camellias are no rarity in Marin County. But few of us grow them by the hundreds. One Marin couple who do are the Hugh Patersons of Los Ranchitos. Marin Magazine editor Don Keown tells you about their acre-plus of camellias and how they grow them in tomorrow's I-J supplement. It's a special treat for the many flower-lovers of Marin.

Just 58 years ago tomorrow, one of history's most devastating earthquakes and after-fires struck the ill-prepared city of San Francisco and surrounding Bay Area. In the Marin County Library's California Room, where state and county historical materials have been assembled, is the superb Fred W. Pabst Collection of 1906 earthquake photos. Tomorrow's magazine reproduces a number of them.

Everyone who contributes to the current Cancer Crusade is playing a role in the attempt to defeat that killer. But some 1,000 Marinites are playing special parts. They are the volunteers and the subjects who are participating in the nationwide six-year Cancer Prevention Study of the American Cancer Society. Read about them and the survey in tomorrow's I-J supplement.

Marin's own magazine . . . picturing and reporting life in Marin today . . . personalities, recreation, coming events, book reviews, gardening, music, home improvement, weekly TV log. A week of good reading. Look for it, Saturdays.
